CREDITS: The 1988-89 University of Kansas basketball media guide is a production of the Kansas sports information office, Doug Vance director, and assistants Jeff Bollig and Laurie Layman. Media Information

WORKING MEDIA AREA — The working press, radio and television area is located on the floor on the east side of Allen Field House. Media will be assigned seats, with a seating chart available in the media room. Media should enter Allen Field House at the southwest corner entrance at the media gate. Accordingly, media parking is situated to the southwest of Allen Field House, Lot 125, located between Hoglund-Maupin Baseball Stadium and the football practice fields.

CREDENTIALS — All credentials must be requested from Doug Vance, Jeff Bollig or Laurie Layman at least 24 hours before tipoff. Since space is limited, media accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers, originating radio stations, national weekly or monthly publications, national electronic media outlets and local and regional television crews.

PHOTOGRAPHERS — Admittance to courtside is by armband only. Armbands may be secured from the KU sports information director prior to tipoff in the media room. Courtside photographers may photograph from any location when the clock is not moving. When the clock is moving, all photographers must be off the court and seated on the red outlining area on the ends of the court.

FILING — Media may use courtside, the media room or the Kansas sports information office from which to file reports. The media room is located on the floor behind the northernmost section of the east bleachers. The Kansas sports information office is located on the second floor of Allen Field House in the northwest corner (room 202). Those wishing to establish telephone service should contact Southwestern Bell for the installation of phone lines at (316) 261-1252.

MEDIA SERVICES — Packets including statistics, notes and programs will be available upon arrival. Time out, halftime and final statistics, a running play-by-play and post game quotes and notes will be provided. Statistical monitors will be provided to television and visiting radio based on availability. A fax machine is available to send stories and box scores. The Kansas sports information personnel will be available to assist in statistical compilation, side bars and telephone reports. Please contact the sports information office 24 hours before tipoff regarding specific needs.

REFRESHMENTS — Beginning 90 minutes prior to tipoff, refreshments will be served in the media room. Cookies, soft drink and coffee will be available throughout the contest.

BROADCAST RIGHTS — All requests for radio and television (both delayed and live) rights should be directed to Doug Vance. Origination fees and requirements for fee waivers will be explained in writing along with issuance of contracts.

COMPLIMENTARY TICEKTS — Complimentary tickets are not available to the media. Working credentials admit only recognized media representatives.

PRE GAME INTERVIEWS

Kansas players will not be available for pre-game or game day interviews at home contests. At home games, a member of the coaching staff will be available for live television spots if the request is made 24 hours before tipoff. Depending upon timing and schedules, Kansas coaches are available for game-day interviews for road contests at the scheduled shoot around and practice session. Requests for these interviews should be made 24 hours prior to tipoff.

POST GAME INTERVIEWS

Both the Kansas and visiting lockerrooms are located behind the west floor bleachers in Allen Field House. In accordance with visiting team representatives, opponent lockerrooms are generally open with the coach interview area in a closed hallway outside the lockerroom. Kansas head coach Roy Williams will conduct a post game radio show and interview session in the film room of the Parrott Athletic Center adjacent to Allen Field House, after meeting with the team following the game.

At home games, the Kansas lockerroom is closed to the media, although Kansas players will be available for interviews in the track lockerroom adjacent to the basketball lockerroom. A representative of the Kansas sports information office will gather requests for player interviews with two minutes remaining in the contest. No live television post game interviews will be permitted, except by media televising the contests. The Kansas lockerroom is open at road games.

PRACTICE

The Kansas basketball practices are closed to the media. Please contact the Kansas sports information office regarding player or coach interviews before or after practice.

COACH WILLIAMS AND PLAYER INTERVIEWS

The Kansas sports information office will conduct weekly press conferences, generally on Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon, with head coach Roy Williams and selected players. Please contact the sports information office regarding specific interview requests. The best time to interview coach Williams is weekday mornings, except on game days. Interviews should be coordinated through the sports information office. Player interview requests should also be made through the sports information office. Freshmen student-athletes will not be available until they have played their first game.

Jayhawk Television Network

For the second consecutive year, selected University of Kansas Basketball games will be telecast along the Jayhawk Television Network. A total to seven games will be produced and distributed statewide by Creative Sports Marketing of Charlotte, N.C. This is the first year that CSM will package Kansas Jayhawk basketball. CSM, founded in 1984, also produces games for NBA's Charlotte Hornets, and seven collegiate conferences, plus has programming on all the major networks. Big Eight Monday Coaches Briefing

The Big Eight Conference hosts individual telephonic press conference with each basketball coach beginning at 10:55 a.m., every Monday morning during the season, starting Jan. 9.

The Conferences are conducted by speakerphone from the league headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., and media may attend the sessions or participate via long-distance telephone services. Radio stations on the Kansas City Royals Baseball Network may record the sessions via hookup with WIBW radio, or may program a satellite receiving dish to: WESTAR III, IF 64.3 MhZ, Transponder 2.

Media wishing to participate in the sessions via long-distance services should contact the Conference office. A small, standard fee is charged.

The Monday schedule for basketball will feature Iowa State Coach Johnny Orr at 10:55 a.m. followed by Kansas State Coach Lon Kruger at 11:05 a.m., Oklahoma State Coach Leonard Hamilton at 11:15 a.m., Oklahoma Coach Billy Tubbs at 11:25 a.m., Nebraska Coach Danny Nee at 11:35 a.m., Missouri Coach Norm Stewart at 11:45 a.m., Kansas Coach Roy Williams at 11:55 a.m. and Colorado Coach Tom Miller at 12:05 p.m. (CST).

THE KANSAS JAYHAWK NETWORK

BOB DAVIS

MAX FALKENSTIEN

University of Kansas basketball will be heard exclusively during the season over The Jayhawk Network with Bob Davis and Max Falkenstien forming the broadcast team once again.

Davis is in his fifth year calling the play-by-play for Kansas football and basketball and 21st season overall in the broadcast booth. He has been honored five times as the Kansas sportscaster of the year and twice been awarded the Oscar Stauffer Award for excellence in high school sports reporting.

Davis serves as sports director at KMBZ radio in Kansas City, Mo. He also hosts call-in shows for KU football coach Glen Mason and KU basketball coach Roy Williams as well as serving as host of the Glen Mason television show.

Falkenstien has been broadcasting Big Eight sports for more than 40 years. He originated the KU sports network and has worked for and done play-by-play for both radio and television. Falkenstien also served as the Big Eight's TV play-by-play announcer for four years.

Recipient of the Kansas Broadcasters Association "Hod Humiston Award" for outstanding contribution to Kansas sports broadcasting, Falkenstien was awarded an honorary "K" in 1984 at the annual lettermen's banquet. He also serves as host of the Kansas basketball television show with head coach Roy Williams.

The Jayhawk Network is a division of Learfield Communications of Jefferson City, Mo. Learfield is one of the largest syndicators of college sports in the country. In addition to Kansas, Learfield operates the networks for Missouri, Oklahoma State and Iowa State. Through its satellite division, Learfield distributes University of Illinois football and basketball, the Kansas City Chiefs, and St. Louis Cardinals baseball.

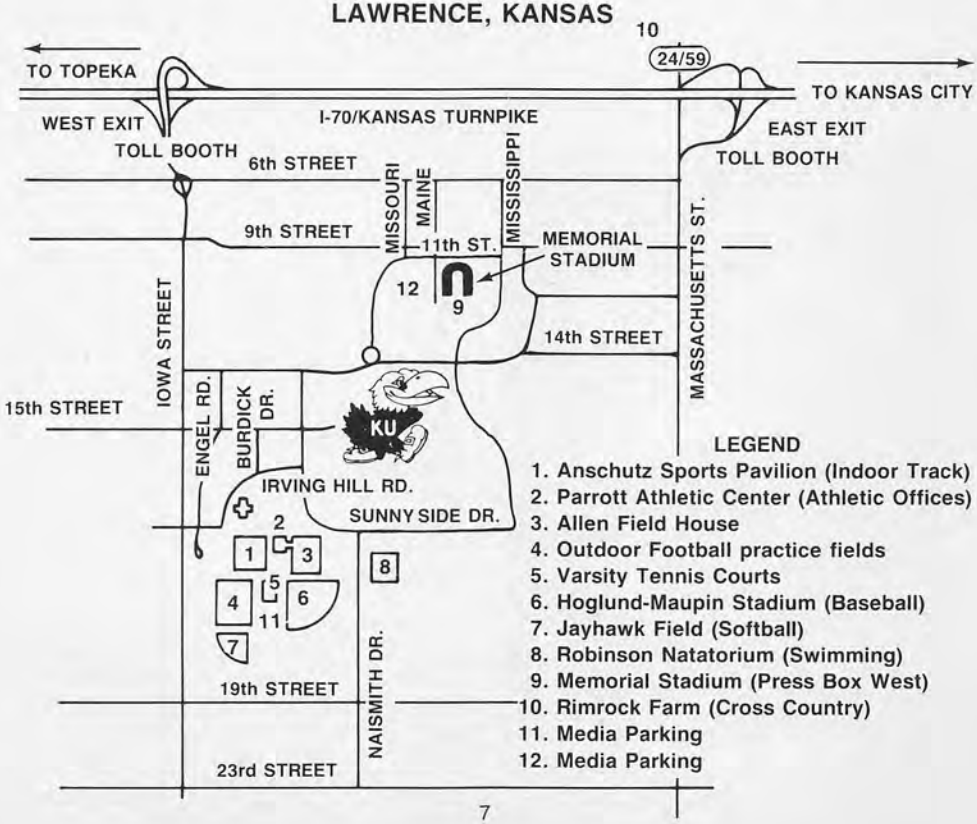
LAWRENCE, KANSAS



1988-89 Jayhawk Outlook

Last year they were the supporting cast in a storybook script which saw their team win a national championship.

This season, the 1988 Kansas Jayhawk returning lettermen are the leading actors — minus two-time All-American Danny Manning and Naismith Coach-of-the-Year Larry Brown — in a year of transition. That change not only features the returning men with an additional year of experience, but a new coaching staff and talented recruits.

The new Jayhawk head coach is former North Carolina assistant Roy Williams. After 10 seasons as an understudy to the widely-respected coaching talents of Dean Smith, Williams is ready to take charge of the Kansas program. Having turned down previous major college offers, it is a challenge he is eager and ready to meet.

"It was my feeling that when the right job came along, it would be staring me in the face. I feel fortunate to be at the University of Kansas, with all of its tradition. I've had the greatest training possible at the top program in the nation, and I'm ready to lead this program."

Joining Williams on the Kansas staff is long-time associate Jerry Green, who also learned his trade in the Tar Heel state. Green comes to KU from North Carolina-Asheville, where he nurtured the program from NAIA to NCAA Division I status as the head coach for nine seasons. Also assisting Williams will be Kevin Stallings, Steve Robinson and Mark Turgeon. Stallings played collegiately at Purdue and was on the Boilermaker staff for the past six seasons. Robinson, who competed at Radford, comes to Kansas after two seasons at Cornell. Turgeon is a familiar face to Jayhawk fans, having joined the coaching staff last year after having lettered four seasons for the Crimson and Blue.

Lincoln Minor, who provided quickness and pressure at guard last season, is one of four seniors on the squad.

Lettermen Lost

The departure of Manning (24.8 ppg., 9.0 rpg), the 1988 collegiate player-of-the-year, creates a considerable void in itself, as does the loss of five additional lettermen. Manning's numbers speak for themselves as he leaves with NCAA records for games played (147) and double figure scoring games (132). Additionally, he set Big Eight Conference records for field goal percentage (.593) and points scored (2,951), and the Kansas record for rebounds with 1,187.

"I'm sure I'll be one of many people who'll be looking around Allen Field House for Danny Manning when practice begins Oct. 15, but I don't think we'll find another one like him," Williams says. "Our returning players are fortunate to have been able to play and learn from such a talented young man, and will be better players because of that."

Chris Piper's (5.1 ppg., 3.8 rpg.) absence equates into a loss of leadership and dependable defensive play. His signing with Kansas as a freshman hardly raised eyebrows, but his contributions to the 1988 NCAA title were well-documented. Archie Marshall's (8.8 ppg., 4.0 rpg.) injury-plagued career produced many what-ifs, and became one of the many sidebars of last year's memorable season. Underclassmen a year ago, center Marvin Branch (8.4 ppg., 6.1 rpg.), forward Keith Harris (3.1 ppg., 2.6 rpg.), and guard Clint Normore (1.9 ppg., 0.9 rpg), will not return for the 1988-89 season.

Senior Class

Despite the loss of six lettermen, the Jayhawks still return eight members from last year's squad, including three starters. That list includes four seniors: 1987-88 redshirt, Sean Alvarado (1.6 ppg., 1.5 rpg., in 1986-87);

Scooter Barry (3.3 ppg., 1.3 rpg); Lincoln Minor (4.8 ppg., 1.4 rpg); and Milt Newton (11.6 ppg., 5.0 rpg.).

It's been my experience that a player's best year is usually his senior year," Williams says. "Certainly we have some good talent, but just as importantly we'll have some good leadership from the group. I look to my seniors to provide the leadership."

Newton's emergence as a starter at small forward last year came as the result of Marshall's season-ending injury versus St. John's. Making the most of his opportunity, the 6-4 Washington, D.C. product distinguished himself by earning NCAA Midwest Regional and NCAA Final Four all-tournament team recognition. He finished the season ranked third in field goal percentage in the Big Eight (.555), and returns as the team's leading scorer and rebounder.

"I guess the best comparison I can use in which a player made the most of an opportunity like Milt did, is when Lou Gerhig replaced Wally Pipp," Williams says. "Certainly Milt proved what a talented individual he is, and I think his senior year can be even better."

Other than Newton, the returning senior class has only 19 career starts among it. Minor, who started 12 games in his initial season last year, spent time at both the off-guard and point-guard. His quickness and defensive pressure were assets as he led Kansas with the highest ratio of steals per minutes played. Barry, who played sparingly as a freshman and sophomore, made only three starts as a junior, but did see action in 35 games. During Kansas' drive to the national title last year, Barry emerged as the first backcourt substitute at both guard positions and was a steadying influence offensively and defensively. Alvarado returns after redshirting last season, honing his skills at the post in practices against Manning.

Junior Class

The Jayhawk junior class features three members, including the starting 1988 backcourt in Kevin Pritchard (10.6 ppg., 2.6 rpg.) and Jeff Gueldner (3.9 ppg., 2.0 rpg.). They are joined by junior college transfer Freeman West from Paris (Texas) Junior College. At 6-5, West (19.1 ppg., 4.4 rpg.) saw action at both forward positions. An all-NJCAA Region 14 selection, West signed with the Jayhawks in the late signing period a year ago.

Pritchard, who was an all-Big Eight Conference academic and Midwest Regional all-tournament pick, was a steadying influence for the Jayhawks after switching from the off to point-guard position. Gueldner was elevated from a relief role to starter at off-guard following Pritchard's move 20 games into the season.

"The thing I like about Kevin Pritchard is that he's been successful at every level of play," Williams says. "He's a hardworking player who knows what it takes to win, and then goes out and does it."

Sophomore Class

The Kansas sophomore class features forwards Mark Randall (4.5 ppg., 2.7 rpg., in 1986-87), and Mike Maddox (2.5 ppg., 1.5 rpg.) Together, Randall and Alvarado represent the tallest returning lettermen, but both do so after laying out a season. Randall spent last season as a medical redshirt undergoing jaw alignment surgery. Maddox played sparingly in 24 games last year, but proved he could score from both inside and out.

"It concerns you anytime when your two biggest returning players both sat out a year, but I'm hopeful they'll be able to regain playing form once they go through pre-season drills," Williams says.

Freshman Class

The lone incoming freshman is guard Sean Tunstall from the successful St. Louis (Mo.) Vashon High School program. Vashon High was 68-6 in the three seasons Tunstall (18.5 ppg., 7.0 assists) competed. He played both the point and off-guard positions in his high school career, earning all-state recognition as a senior.

On The Sidelines

There's little doubt that Kansas will be a better team in practice than in games this season. Practicing, but not suiting up will be Rick Calloway and Alonzo Jamison. Malcolm Nash, who was a teammate of Sean Tunstall at Vashon (Mo.) High School, will not play under Proposition 48, but is attending Kansas.

Calloway, who transferred to Kansas this past summer from Indiana, has one year of eligibility remaining. A three-year starter for the Hoosiers and a member of the 1987 national championship team, Calloway must sit out under the NCAA transfer rule. He averaged 11.6 ppg., and 4.2 rpg., as a junior. Jamison, like Calloway, will practice with the team, but must sit out becaue he did not meet the Big Eight Conference junior college transfer rule. A sophomore, Jamison comes to Kansas from Rancho Santiago (Calif.) Junior College where he averaged 19.5 ppg., and 12.5 rpg., in winning co-player of the year honors in the California junior college system. He will not lose a year of eligibility.

Schedule

Although teams do not need any incentive when it comes to playing Kansas, the fact that the Jayhawks are the defending national champions only magnifies the game's importance, according to Williams. In addition to the difficult Big Eight Conference schedule, the Jayhawks will be on the road to face top powers Temple and Duke on national televison. Kansas will compete in the prestigious Great Alaskan Shootout (along with Utah, California, Seton Hall, Kentucky, Iona, Florida and host Alaska) to open the season, and the BMA Holiday Tournament (Southwest Missouri State, East Tennessee State and Iona) in Kansas City in late December.

Including teams entered in the two tournaments, 11 teams who qualified for the NCAA Tournament last season are on the Jayhawks' schedule. But the test begins even earlier as the powerful Soviet Union National team will visit Allen Field House for an exhibition contest in mid-November.

"Hopefully my experience in the ACC will prepare me for the Big Eight," Williams says. "It was always difficult to win on the road, and I think the same story will hold in the Big Eight. The conference has proved itself, and I see the possibility of four or five teams making it to the NCAA tourney again this year."

Quoting Roy Williams

On Kansas defending as national champions:

"It's a situation where I want the players to realize what they've accomplished, and be proud of it. I want them to be able to look at the banner and be proud. I won't spend much time talking about it because I don't think we need that kind of pressure, and we aren't at the stage where we should be talking national championship."

On the influence of Dean Smith:

"I owe so much to coach Smith in what I've learned over the years. He was instrumental in me getting my first job, and there's no doubt his support was the main reason I was considered at Kansas. I think he runs the model program in the nation and everybody could learn something from him."

On the Kansas tradition:

"I know what tradition means to a program, and certainly its hard to find better tradition when you mention North Carolina and Kansas. I feel I knew a little bit more about Kansas basketball because of coach Smith and coach (Dick) Harp. I always heard it was a special place, and have sensed that since coming here."

On the Big Eight Conference:

"Well, it's hard to get much better with three teams in the final eight of the NCAA Tournament. The conference was blessed with a great senior class last season, but the coaches are the strong part. You look at what the successful programs have done under some great coaches, and then you add some great younger coaches building strong programs."

On his academic philosophy:

"The main reason the players are here is to get their degrees. Nothing is more sad than having a player complete his eligibility and then leave without that degree. Secondly, the student-athlete should be part of the student body, not removed from his classmates. Once we can instill that in our program, our next goal is to be as successful on the court as we possibly can."

On his style of play:

"I would like to use the principle of man-to-man, full-court pressure defense, and then run the fast break on offense everytime we have the opportunity. The problem with that is sometimes you don't have the players capable of doing that, or the numbers. We'll just have to see what we can do when we begin pratice."

On his concept of team play:

"I'm a firm believer that it isn't the coach who determines who starts and plays, but the player himself. It really isn't important who starts, but which combination can perform best in our system."

The Jayhawk basketball program had an additional influence on the gridiron program as former Kansas basketball coach Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, who compiled a 590-219 record in 39 seasons on the court, was also the head football coach for a season. In 1920, the Allen-led Jayhawks finished the season at 5-2-1. He also served as athletic director at Kansas and was instrumental in the design of Memorial Stadium.

Roy Williams — Head Coach

The tradition of Kansas Jayhawk basketball was born under Dr. James Naismith and nurtured by such skilled individuals as W.O. Hamilton, Phog Allen, Dick Harp, Ted Owens and Larry Brown. This year, Roy Williams inherits a Jayhawk basketball program which last season finished 27-11 and won a national championship.

It is a job which Williams is both well-trained and prepared to undertake.

The 38-year-old Williams becomes the seventh coach in Kansas basketball history, after a 10-year tenure as an assistant at North Carolina. In that span with the Tar Heel program, he handled the responsibilities of junior varsity head coach, scout, conditioning coordinator, assistant director of the Dean Smith Basketball School and recruiting. On the court, he worked with the Tar Heel centers and forwards in rebounding and positioning, and with the squad in shooting technique.

"I had the greatest preparation for this job that a person could possibly have," says Williams. "I learned from who I consider the finest coach in the game in Dean Smith. He gave me the responsibility in all aspects of coaching."

In his 10 years at North Carolina, the Tar Heels posted a 243-57 record and won or shared six Atlantic Coast Conference regular season titles, and three post season crowns. That record includes 10 straight NCAA Tournament berths and a 1982 national championship. Last year, North Carolina went 27-7 and was eliminated in the NCAA Tourney by Arizona in the West Regional Finals.

Williams came to North Carolina prior to the 1978-79 season as an assistant after coaching at Charles D. Owen High School in Swannanoa, N.C. for five years (1974-78). While at Owen High, he also coached ninth grade football for four years, boys golf for five seasons and was the athletic director for two years.

At North Carolina, Williams served as the junior varsity coach for eight years (1978-86) and accumulated a mark of 72-52. During the past two seasons, he was extensively involved in the recruiting process including the signing of prep standouts King Rice, Rick Fox and Hubert Davis. Williams was also instrumental in the recruitment of the 1984 North Carolina class which featured Matt

Doherty and Sam Perkins. He assumed the responsibilities of recruiting when Eddie Fogler left North Carolina to become the head coach of Wichita State.

Williams was a standout prep athlete at T.C. Roberson High School in Skyland, N.C., lettering in basketball and baseball for four seasons. In basketball he was all-county and all-conference for two years (1967-1968), all-western North Carolina in 1968 and served as the team captain of the white squad in the North Carolina Blue — All Star Game.

Upon graduation from high school, Williams attended North Carolina where he competed as a non-scholarship player for the 1968-69 freshman basketball team. He teamed with former Tar Heel greats Bill Chamberlain and Steve Previs on a team coached by current Carolina assistant Bill Guthridge.

Williams knew from his early days in junior high school that he had always wanted to be a head coach. The need to get a job to pay for his education ended his playing days, but did not diminish his desire to coach. He would often sit in on Tar Heel practice sessions, taking notes and furthering his knowledge of the game.

Williams earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1972 as well as a master's degree in teaching in 1973 from North Carolina.

In addition to his coaching activities, Williams is a highly respected camp teacher, having taught at the Dean Smith Basketball School for 15 years. He has also served as a lecturer and camp director for the West German National Junior Team.

Williams, 38 (born August 1, 1950) is a native of Asheville, N.C. He and his wife Wanda have a son Scott, 11, and daughter Kimberly, 8.

THE KANSAS-CAROLINA CONNECTION

- Current North Carolina head coach Dean Smith is a 1953 Kansas graduate, and played on the Jayhawks' 1952 and 1953 Final Four teams under Phog Allen.
- Former Kansas head coach Dick Harp, is currently serving as an administrative assistant to Dean Smith at North Carolina. Harp also played collegiately at Kansas, and was also an assistant coach for the Jayhawks while Smith played on the Phog Allen-coached teams. Harp and Smith are two of only five players to have ever played and coached in an NCAA Championship game.
- North Carolina defeated Kansas 54-53 in triple overtime to win the 1957 NCAA national championship. North Carolina was coached by Frank McGuire, while Kansas was coached by Dick Harp and featured NCAA Tournament MVP Wilt Chamberlain.
- Former Kansas head coach Larry Brown played collegiately at North Carolina under Dean Smith.
- Former Kansas head coach Larry Brown and former North Carolina head coach Frank McGuire are the only two coaches to have taken two different schools to the NCAA championship game.

What They Say About Roy Williams

"Coach Williams is concerned about all phases of your life. He's a coach, but he's also a friend. He pushes you to succeed academically and athletically. I know I became a better player under the system we had at North Carolina, and coach Williams was a part of that."

Michael Jordan
North Carolina (1982-84)
NBA MVP and All-Star

"He's a very good teacher on the court, very good. I'm confident he'll continue to develop Kansas as one of the outstanding programs in the country. He's a highly organized person and well-respected in our profession. He genuinely cares a great deal about his players. I know he'll do a great job."

Dean Smith
Head Coach
North Carolina

"Roy brings the greatest personal integrity and high ethical standards to the job. He is held in high regard by members in his profession, and is thought of as one of the great young minds in the game. I feel Roy Williams will continue the fine tradition of Kansas basketball."

Bob Frederick
Athletic Director
University of Kansas

"There is no doubt coach Williams is the reason I am where I am today. He taught me to become a better player and person. There is no question he'll make you a better, more complete player and person. He understands people and what it takes to succeed both on and off the court. He's there with you every step of the way. I was fortunate to play under him. I hate to think where I would be without him."

Brad Daugherty
North Carolina (1983-86)
NBA All-Star

"At North Carolina, he's had the opportunity to study one of the most knowledgeable coaches in the game. He's been in a position to judge talent and get involved in the organizational aspect of a program that's the equal of any in the country."

Billy Packer
CBS College Basketball Analyst

Jerry Green — Assistant Coach

Jerry Green begins his first year on the Kansas staff after serving as head coach at North Carolina-Asheville for the past nine years. While at UNC-Asheville, Green accumulated a 150-108 (.581) record, and took the program from NAIA to NCAA Division I status. The Bulldogs first competed on the NCAA Division I level in 1986-87. At Kansas, Green will assist in all phases of the program, with his main responsibilities including recruiting, practice preparation and travel coordination.

A native of Startex, S.C., Green broke into coaching on the high school level at Ashe Central High School in Jefferson, N.C. for one season (1967-68). After serving two years in the army and completing his master's degree, he then moved to Charleston, (S.C. High School where he guided the team to a 20-6 mark for the 1970-71 season. Success accompanied Green to Hunter Huss High School in Gastonia, N.C. where he was 78-19 in four years. While at Hunter Huss High, he coached former Georgetown All-American and current Houston Rocket Eric "Sleepy" Floyd. Green joined the UNC-Asheville staff as an assistant to Bob Hartman in 1977, was then promoted to head coach prior to the 1979-80 season when Hartman retired.

Under Green's direction, the Bulldog program went from the NAIA level to NCAA Division II prior to the 1985-86 season. One year later, UNC-Asheville competed in Division I. Three years after inheriting a team which went 7-20 the previous season, Green guided the Bulldogs to a 19-10 record in 1981-82. The next year, UNC-Asheville recorded a school best 22-9 mark, then followed that with a 21-10 record in the 1983-84 campaign. In addition to his duties at UNC-Asheville, Green was also a guest lecturer and instructor at camps in the United States and Europe. He worked with Kansas head coach Roy Williams instructing the West German Junior National Team. He and Williams are long time associates.

Green played collegiately at Spartanburg (S.C.) Methodist College for two years where he was the MVP and team captain for one season. He then transferred to UNC-Asheville (known as Asheville-Biltmore College) to complete his athletic eligibility where he was a team captain, MVP and member of the tennis team. In high school, he was the state pole vault champion as a senior. He completed his degree in physical education at Applachian State in 1967, and then completed his master's in education from East Tennessee State in 1971 after serving two years in the Army. Green, 45 (born November 20, 1944) and his wife Nancy have a son, Travis, 13.

Coaching Excellence

Kansas is the only school to have reached the NCAA Final Four under four different coaches: Phog Allen (1940, 42 and 53), Dick Harp (1957), Ted Owens (1971 and 74) and Larry Brown (1986 and 88). Allen's 1922 and 1923 teams were named the Helms Foundation National Championship.

Kevin Stallings — Assistant Coach

Kevin Stallings enters his first season with the Jayhawk basketball program after serving six seasons on the staff at Purdue. While he was on the Boilermaker staff, Purdue made six straight NCAA Tournament appearances and was a combined 140-44. Under head coach Gene Keady, Purdue has been one of the top 10 winningest programs in the nation in the past five years. Last season, the Boilermakers were ranked first by many media organizations much of the season. During his six seasons at Purdue, Stallings' main responsibilities were scouting and recruiting.

At Kansas, Stallings will assist in all phases of coaching, with his main duties including scouting and administrative aspects of recruiting.

Stallings was a standout prep star at Collinsville (Ill.) High School, earning all-state honors as a junior and senior. He then went on to play at Belleville (Ill.) Junior College for one season. While at Belleville, Stallings competed as a 6-5 shooting guard, and won All-American recognition from Basketball Weekly his freshman year as he averaged 18 points and nine assists per game. That season, Belleville advanced to the National Junior College Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan., and finished at 28-9.

Stallings continued his career at Purdue where he lettered three years. The Boilermakers reached post-season play in each of those three seasons. For his career, he played in 97 games and dished out 217 assists. In 1980, he was on the Purdue squad which reached the Final Four. He played under both Lee Rose and Keady in his three seasons. He graduated from Purdue with a bachelor's degree in marketing in 1982 and received his master's in counseling in 1985.

Stallings, 28 (born October 1, 1961), is a native of Alton, Ill. He is married to the former Lisa Schuerman.

Cradle of Coaches

When mentioning tradition and success, certainly few programs can match that of Kansas. Of the six college coaches who have a .750 winning percentage and 500-plus wins, four are Kansas graduates. Phog Allen, 1907 graduate, was 771-223 (.768) in 46 seasons at Kansas, Baker, Central Missouri State and Haskell. Adolph Rupp, a 1923 graduate and the nation's all-time winningest coach, was 875-190 (.882) in 41 years at Kentucky. John McLendon, a 1936 grad, was 523-165 (.760) in 25 seasons at Central, Hampton, Tennessee State, Kentucky State, Cleveland State. Dean Smith, a 1953 grad, is 638-182 (.779) as he begins his 28th season at North Carolina. Allen played collegiately under Dr. James Naismith, while Rupp and Smith played under Allen, and McLendon was a student under Allen in the physical education department. Both current Kansas coach Roy Williams and former coach Larry Brown played under Smith at North Carolina.

Steve Robinson — Assistant Coach

After two years as an assistant at Cornell, Steve Robinson begins his first season with the Kansas basketball program. While at Cornell, the Big Red posted records of 15-11 in 1987 and 17-10 in 1988. Last year's squad won the Ivy League title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1954, where it was eliminated by Arizona in the first round. At Cornell, Robinson was in charge of recruiting, scouting and game plan preparation. For the Jayhawks, Robinson will coordinate conditioning drills, monitor academic progress and assist in on-campus recruiting.

Robinson competed collegiately at Ferrum (Va.) Junior College for two years (1977-78) where he was a dean's list student before transferring to Radford to complete his eligibility. At Radford, he was the university's first athletic scholarship recipient and was captain of the squad for two seasons (1980-81). He received his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Radford in 1981, and master's in counseling in 1985.

Upon graduation, Robinson was appointed an assistant coach at Lincoln (Pa.) University for the 1981-82 season, then served on the staff at Albemarle High School in Charlottesville, Va., for the 1982-83 campaign. He then returned to Radford as an assistant where he served three seasons (1983-85) and was head golf coach. At Radford, he was the recruiting coordinator and camp director.

Robinson, 31 (born October 29, 1957) is married to the former Lisa Lorraine Key. They have a daughter, Shaunã, 8 and son, Tarron, 5 months.

Mark Turgeon — Assistant Coach

Mark Turgeon enters his second year on the Kansas staff, having served as a student assistant and junior varsity coach for the Jayhawks last season. This season, Turgeon will serve as the Jayhawks' junior varsity coach and assist within on-campus recruiting activities. Turgeon completed his bachelor's degree in personnel administration from Kansas in 1987.

Known for his knowledge of the game and on the court savvy, Turgeon lettered four seasons for the Jayhawks under Larry Brown. He along with Danny Manning and Chris Piper are the only Kansas basketball players to compete in four NCAA Tournaments. He ranks second behind Manning on the Kansas record list for career games played (134), third in assists behind Cedric Hunter and Darnell Valentine (437) and 10th in career steals (79). He also played in the NCAA Final Four on the 1985-86 Jayhawk team.

Turgeon was a highly-honored prep player at Topeka (Kan.) Hayden High School, leading his team to class 4A titles his junior and senior seasons. He was also named MVP of the Kansas Basketball and Pizza Hut Classic all-star games.

Turgeon, 23 (born February 5, 1965), is single.

Mike Hill — Equipment Manager

Now in his tenth season as the Jayhawks' equipment manager, Mike Hill, oversees all equipment inventory and distribution for basketball and baseball at KU.

Hill was certainly no stranger to Kansas when he entered into his present position in 1979. He spent the previous 12 years on the staff of the KU police force and was serving as chief of the department when he stepped down to join the athletic department. In 1976, Hill was selected as the Lawrence Jaycees' Outstanding Young Law Officer.

During the summer months, Hill has been heavily involved in the amateur baseball program in Lawrence. He was a member of the Lawrence Legion baseball team that won the state title in 1964. He has served as head coach and manager of the Lawrence American Legion program and presently assists the semi-pro team in Lawrence.

Hill was born in Topeka, Kan., and spent most of his life in Lawrence. He graduated from Lawrence High School and attended Emporia State and Kansas. Hill, 42 (Born March 19, 1946), has three children, Michael, 19, Brent, 16, and Kyndra, 11.

Mark Cairns — Assistant Trainer

Mark Cairns is in his third season as a full-time trainer on the Kansas medical staff, but has been involved in Kansas athletics for the past 10 years. He serves as the men's basketball trainer in addition to working with the other sports.

After graduating from Salina Central High School, Cairns came to KU and became a student trainer. He remained in that position for five years, working with all sports. He received his bachelor's degree in Organismal Biology in 1984.

Cairns then became a graduate assistant on the training staff while working on his master's degree in kinesiology/sports psychology. He is still presently working toward that degree. In his two years as a graduate assistant, he worked mainly with the Jayhawk football and baseball programs. Cairns will serve as the secretary/treasurer of the Kansas Athletic Trainers Society this year.

Cairns, 27 (Born June 6, 1961), is a native of Salina, Kan. He is single.

Roger Finkemeier — Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Entering his fourth year as assistant strength and conditioning coach, Roger Finkemeier coordinates the Kansas Jayhawk basketball speed-strength training activities. He also organizes the speed-strength program for the Jayhawk non-revenue sports program, and manages the speed-strength support staff for those sports.

Finkemeier earned a B.S. in education with minors in biology and math in 1982 from Kansas. Upon graduation, he taught math and physical education at Shawnee Mission North High School in Overland Park, Kan., where he also coached football and track. He received his master's degree in physiology and biomechanics in 1988. He is also a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

Finkemeier, 31 (Born Feburary 19, 1958), is a native of Kansas City, Kan., and is a 1975 graduate of Turner High School. He is married to the former Maryl Gatts. They have three children, Hollyn, Heath, and Olivia.

Danny Tyrrell — Head Manager

Danny Tyrrell is in his fourth season as a student manager for the varsity basketball squad, and his first as the head manager. He will assist equipment manager Mike Hill in the areas of inventory control and distribution. Additionally, Tyrrell will assist in the allocation of tickets for players and coaching staff for all games. On the road, he will help coordinate practice and travel scheduling.

Tyrrell is a senior majoring in journalism: advertising. A native of Philadelphia, Pa., he played for two seasons under Bill Koch at Father Judge High School. He was student vice-president and member of the National Honor Society as a senior. In addition to his activities as a manager, he was worked the previous two summers at the Kansas Basketball School.

Wayne Walden — Academic Coordinator

Wayne Walden is in his second year as academic coordinator. He works with assistant athletic director Richard Lee in the academic support services department.

Prior to assuming his position in the fall of 1987, Walden served as a graduate assistant for two years in the athletic department academic support services office. In his capacity, he assists in the coordination of various support services including course scheduling, academic progress monitoring, Big Eight Conference and NCAA certification and counseling. In addition to men's basketball, he also supervises the Kansas baseball, men's golf and track academic support programs.

A native of Topeka, Kan., Walden graduated from Kansas in May 1984 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He is currently completing his master's degree in counseling psychology at Kansas.

Walden, 26 (born May 10, 1962), is single.

Dr. Gene A. Budig — Chancellor

Dr. Gene A. Budig is a teaching chancellor. He has taught at least one course every semester for the past 22 years. A professor of higher education and of journalism, he has written more than 70 articles for scholarly publications. He has edited several major books on higher education.

"Nothing is more important than keeping in touch with students through instructional processes," says the 14th chancellor of the University of Kansas.

Since coming to KU more than seven years ago, Dr. Budig has traveled to every corner of Kansas, meeting regularly with the faculty, staff, student and alumni groups.

His credentials as an academic administrator are impressive. He has headed three major universities — Kansas, West Virginia and Illinois State, each with enrollments exceeding 22,000 students. In the past 16 years, he has been responsible for the educational programs of more than 330,000 students and the administration of nearly $5 billion in educational funds.

Dr. Gene A. Budig
Chancellor

The 49-year-old Nebraska native has received a number of national honors in recent years. Change Magazine, in cooperation with the American Council on Education, selected him as one of the top 100 young leaders in American higher education.

He was named by the President of the United States to the Intergovernmental Council on Education. More than 1,100 leaders from local, state and federal governments and from the general public were nominated for membership on this prestigious 20-member group which was created by Congress to advise the Department of Education.

Phi Delta Kappa, the largest national educational fraternity, selected Chancellor Budig as one of the 75 young men and women who represented the best in educational leadership, research and service in the United States and Canada.

He was voted as one of the 10 most influential Kansans in a survey conducted by the Harris News Service in the spring of 1986. He is the past Chairman of the Council of Presidents for the Big Eight Conference.

During his seven years at the University of Kansas, the institution was able to add a new library at the Medical Center in Kansas City and the largest academic building in the history of the Lawrence campus, a new home for the biological sciences. The University also realized a new alumni center and recreational complex, major additions to the schools of Business and Engineering and the Geological Survey, and renovated quarters for architecture, journalism, and geology. In 1983, KU received the nation's largest grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Two years later the university was awarded the largest federal building grant in its history for the construction of a human development center.

During the same period of time, the University raised a record $200 million from private sources for academic program enrichment. The number of distinguished professorships was doubled and private funding for scholarships and fellowships increased by nearly 60 percent. Revenue at the University Hospital in Kansas City exceeded projections by more than $40 million from 1982-87.

Chancellor Budig has been active in the Air National Guard for more than 25 years. A major general, he is presently the ANG Assistant to the Commander of Air Training Command. ATC is one of the major commands of the United States Air Force.

He received all three of his academic degrees from the University of Nebraska. He is married to the former Gretchen Van Bloom of Lincoln, Neb. They have one son, Christopher, and two daughters, Mary Frances and Kathryn.

Dr. Bob Frederick — Athletic Director

Athletic Director

Dr. Bob Frederick returned "home" to the University of Kansas in the summer of 1987 when Chancellor Gene Budig announced his appointment as director of athletics.

Since coming back to the venue where he received his undergraduate, master's and doctoral degrees, Frederick has quickly established an impressive reputation as an achiever with an eye for the future.

Frederick has worked tirelessly in the past year in helping maintain KU's high level of prominence in collegiate athletics. His efforts have also helped Kansas attract some of the most impressive and respected coaches in the country to run the various programs.

Frederick first set foot on the Kansas campus in the fall of 1958, after failing an eye examination, due to an eye defect, necessary for admission to the United States Air Force Academy. At the urging of then Air Force assistant coach and Kansas alumnus Dean Smith, Frederick enrolled at Kansas with hopes of walking on the basketball team guided by Dick Harp.

Torn knee cartilage sidelined Frederick as a sophomore, but he overcame the injury the next season to walk on the 1959-60 team. He received his bachelor of science degree in education with a major in chemistry and minor in social studies in 1962. Frederick continued his relationship with the Kansas basketball program by serving as Harp's graduate assistant coach from September 1962 to August 1964. He received his master of science in education with an emphasis in school administration in 1964.

From Kansas, Frederick began his career on the high school level as an assistant basketball coach and chemistry teacher at Rich Central High School in Olympia Fields, Ill., from August 1964 to July 1966. He then moved to Russell, Kan., where he served as head basketball coach and social studies instructor from 1966 to 1970.

Moving from the high school level, Frederick served as head basketball coach and instructor of chemistry at Coffeyville (Kan.) Community College for the 1970-71 season. From there he returned to KU in 1971 to serve as head golf coach and assistant basketball coach under Ted Owens. After one season at Kansas, he was named assistant coach to Glenn Potter at Brigham Young where he served for three years from 1972 to 1975. He then moved to Stanford where he was an assistant coach under Dick DiBiaso from April 1975 to August 1977.

From Stanford, Frederick returned to Lawrence and the high school ranks in August of 1977 to assume the duties of chemistry teacher and boys basketball coach at Lawrence High School. After serving in that capacity for four years, Frederick rekindled his association with Kansas as he was named Assistant Athletic Director and Executive Director of the Williams Educational Fund in the KU Athletic Department in March of 1981. He served in that capacity until 1985, and at the same time completed his doctorate in educational administration in 1984. Under his direction the Williams Fund eclipsed the $2 million mark in annual fundraising.

Prior to his appointment as the 12th athletic director in Kansas history on May 13, 1987, Frederick served two years (1985-87) as director of athletics at Illinois State University.

During his tenure at Illinois State, Frederick administered a 20-sport athletic program which won the Missouri Valley Conference all-sports championship in 1986. He also coordinated the development and construction of new basketball, soccer and baseball facilities.

For Frederick, the opportunity to serve as athletic director at the University of Kansas represents a meaningful experience.

"I am excited about my position at Kansas," Frederick said. "It really is meaningful after having been a student-athlete and coach here, to have the opportunity to continue the relationship."

"I think it is important for us in athletics at Kansas to foster the strong emotional ties that our alumni have with the institution. Athletics is so often the window through which the University is viewed, and we have the responsibility to display the institution in a positive manner, one which will bring additional credit to an already great university."

"I also think we have the opportunity to offer students a healthy environment in which to operate. For the student-athlete, athletics offer a chance for competition which he or she may never experience in any other activity. For the non-student-athlete, athletics is an opportunity to show enthusiasm and support for the school, plus build a relationship which will continue after graduation."

A native of Kirkwood, Mo., Frederick, 48 (born March 4, 1940), and his wife Margey have four boys, Brian 14, Brad, 12, Mark 6, and Christopher 3. He is an avid runner, and competed in the Kansas Relays open marathon in the past.

Dr. Del Brinkman — Faculty Representative

Dr. Del Brinkman, vice-chancellor for academic affairs and former dean of the School of Journalism and Mass Communications, is beginning his 11th year as faculty representative for the University of Kansas to the Big Eight Conference and NCAA. Brinkman chaired the Big Eight Conference faculty representative meetings last year.

Brinkman, who replaced Professor J. Hammond McNish as faculty representative in October, 1978, has served as chairman of the Kansas University Athletic Corporation for several years. A leader in journalism and journalism education, Brinkman is a former president of the Association for Education in Journalism and of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism. He formerly served five years on the accrediting committee of the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism.

Brinkman has a lengthy list of publications, book reviews and honors to his credit. He has been invited to participate in several world issues and education conferences.

An Olpe, Kan., native, Brinkman received his B.S. degree in English and social science from Emporia State College. His graduate degrees, an M.A. in journalism and political science and a Ph.D. in mass communications and political science, are from Indiana University. Last year he was honored with a distinguished alumni award from Indiana University.

Brinkman joined the KU journalism faculty in 1970 and was journalism dean and director of the William Allen White Foundation from 1975 to 1986. In July of 1986, he left that post to succeed Deanell Tacha as KU's vice chancellor for academic affairs.

Brinkman, 51, has two children, Scott, 24, and Susan, 18.

Susan Wachter — Assistant Athletic Director/Business

Starting her ninth year with the Kansas athletic department, Susan Wachter, oversees all the financial transactions within the athletic department. She also supervises the men's and women's tennis programs.

In all, Wachter has been with the University for 12 years, coming to KU in 1976 as an auditor. Working under the University's Director of Business Affairs, she was responsible for operational, financial and compliance auditing of University departments. In 1987, Wachter was honored as the Outstanding Female Employee of the Year, as designated by the Commission on the status of Women at KU. Wachter will serve as the third vice-president for the College Athletic Business Management Association this year.

Wachter graduated with honors in 1970 from Pittsburg State (Kan.) University with a bachelor's degree in accounting. Wachter, a certified public accountant and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, joined Haskins and Sells, an accounting firm in St. Louis, Mo., in June of 1970. She left Haskins and Sells to join the accounting firm of Connor, Ash, and Company of Clayton, Mo., in December of 1971.

Just prior to coming to KU, Wachter spent the 1975-76 academic year at Pittsburg State as a visiting instructor of accounting. She received her Master's of Business Administration from Kansas in 1986.

Wachter, 40 (born October 10, 1948), and her husband, John, an attorney in Topeka with the firm of Eidson, Lewis, Porter, and Haynes, have one daughter, Jessica, 14.

Dr. James Naismith came to Kansas from his position of director of the Denver YMCA in 1898 to be instructor of physical education, director of chapel and basketball coach. He was recommended to the position by the legendary football coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, who coached Naismith in football at Springfield.

Richard Konzem — Assistant Athletic Director/Administration

Richard Konzem is in his eighth year with the KU athletic department. In February of 1988 Konzem, previously the director of the Williams Educational Fund, became the assistant athletic director for administration.

In addition to assisting in the administration of the athletic programs, Konzem coordinates NCAA, Big Eight and University rules interpretations, football and basketball scheduling and also serves as the personnel director within the department. Konzem supervises the sports medicine program, spirit squad, track, women's basketball, baseball and swimming programs.

A native of Salina, Kan., Konzem graduated from Kansas in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in business while serving as manager of the KU track and field team.

He continued his education at the University of Southern California where he received his master's degree in athletic administration in 1983. While attending USC, he served as an intern in the Cardinal and Gold Club, the fund-raising office of the USC athletic department.

Konzem returned to Kansas in 1981 to accept the position as assistant director of the Williams Fund working under current Jayhawk athletic director Bob Frederick for four years. He also held the dual responsibility as ticket manager at KU during the 1981-82 school year. In 1985 Konzem was named the assistant athletic director and executive director of the Williams Fund. During his seven years in the Williams Fund, donations increased from $1.2 million to $2.5 million annually.

Konzem, 30 (born December 27, 1957), is married to the former Patti Bender of Tempe, Ariz. They have one son, Scott, 4.

Floyd Temple — Assistant Athletic Director/Operations

Floyd Temple is in his 37th year with the athletic department at KU and his seventh year as assistant athletic director.

Temple started his assistant athletic directorship in 1981 after serving as head baseball coach for 28 years. As assistant athletic director, his duties include supervising the operations of facilities, the strength and equipment programs, softball, volleyball and the men's and women's golf programs.

Temple, who had his baseball uniform retired in April of 1982, was inducted into the Kansas Baseball Hall of Fame in Wichita in 1966. Dr. Forrest C. Allen, who coached KU basketball for 39 years, is the only other coach who has a longer tenure at the University than Temple. Temple is also among the longest serving athletic administrators in the Big Eight Conference.

Temple played two years of varsity baseball at Kansas after transferring in 1948 from Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College. He also earned two varsity letters in football, playing both halfback and fullback. Temple earned his bachelor of science degree in education from KU in 1950.

Temple, a native of Coffeyville, Kan., has worn many hats around the Kansas athletic department. He has served as an assistant football coach and is in charge of game day management for both football and basketball games at KU.

Temple, 62 (born February 3, 1926), and his wife, Beverly, have two children and five grandchildren. Son, Biff, and his wife Debbie have two daughters, Stephanie, 11, and Kelly, 8, and one son, Brett, 4. Daughter Ann and her husband, Blane Brown, have two daughters, Taylor Ann, 8, and Kaci Temple, 5.

The last team to go through the Big Eight Conference race undefeated was the 1971 Kanas Final Four team which finished the regular season at 27-3.

Richard Lee — Assistant Athletic Director/Academic Support Programs

Richard Lee, who has been at the University of Kansas for the last 13 years as Director of Support Educational Services for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, joined the KU Athletic Department in November 1984 to head the Academic Support Program for Student Athletes.

Lee is responsible for the supervision of all aspects of the academic and personal support programs for student athletes within the athletic department at KU. He works as a liaison between the athletic department and academic and student affairs in matters relating to academic and personal support programs.

A former scholarship athlete himself, Lee grew up in Waco, Texas. He received his bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation from Southern University in Baton Rouge, La. Later, he received a master's degree in counseling from Mankato State (Minn.) University. He is currently working on a doctorate in higher education administration at Kansas.

For the past 18 years, Lee has been a teacher, coach and counselor in elementary and secondary public schools, as well as a faculty member and administrator at the university level.

During the 1985-86 academic year Lee was honored as one of five finalists for the Employee of the Year Award for Unclassified Staff.

Lee, 44 (born October 17, 1944), and his wife Emily, have three sons, Richard II, 21, Rodrick, 17 and Rendall, 15.

Steve Walsh — Executive Director, Williams Educational Fund

Steve Walsh is in his first year as Executive Director of the Williams Educational Fund, replacing Gary Hunter, who was appointed Director of Athletics at Idaho this past summer.

As director of the Williams Fund, Walsh will oversee the operations of the fundraising program of the KU athletic department. The Williams Fund is comprised of more than 3,400 donors who provide assistance to the more than 400 student-athletes at KU. He will also oversee the operations of the tickets office and the allocation of parking at KU athletic events.

Walsh came to Kansas after serving two years as the executive director of the Kansas Special Olympics. In that capacity, he managed and organized the statewide sports training and athletics program for persons with mental retardation. That included the annual giving campaign, corporate fundraising activities, marketing and special events activities. Prior to working with the Special Olympics, Walsh spent two years (1984-85) as director of athletic fundraising at Nicholls State in Thibodaux, La., where he coordinated all fundraising and promotional activities.

A native of Houma, La., Walsh received his bachelor's degree in marketing from Louisiana State in 1981, and his master's in sport management for Ohio State in 1984.

Walsh, 29 (Born February 12, 1959), is single.

Kansas won the Helms Foundation National Championship in 1922 and 1923, and the NCAA Tournament Title in 1952 and 1988. Kansas has been the NCAA runner-up three times (1940, 1953 and 1957). In all Kansas has made eight appearances in the NCAA Final Four.

Doug Vance— Assistant Athletic Director/Sports Information Director

Doug Vance is in his sixth season in the Kansas Athletic Department and his 16th season as a college sports information director. He also assists in the marketing of Jayhawk athletics and coordinates the media as assistant athletic director for media relations.

Prior to his coming to Kansas, Vance worked five years as the SID at Murray (Ky.) State (1978-83) and five years at Austin Peay State (1973-78) in Clarksville, Tenn.

A graduate of Eastern Kentucky in Richmond, Ky., Vance has also served on the sports staff of the Lexington (Ky.) Herald and as a news reporter for the Frankfort (Ky.) State Journal.

Several athletic publications edited by Vance at Murray State and Kansas were cited for excellence by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), including his 1982 football brochure, which was selected as best in the nation (Div. 1AA) and the 1983 Kansas basketball brochure, which was named the best 6x9 brochure in the country. Vance has also edited the Jayhawk basketball media guide, judged to be the third best in the nation in 1986 and 1987. Vance served as a media coordinator for the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival in Raleigh, N.C.

Vance, 38 (born December 9, 1950), is married to the former Sue Wolfer of Hillsboro, Ohio and they have two sons, Cory, 15, and Stuart, 13.

Craig Haines — Director of Marketing and Promotions

Craig Haines is in his fourth year with the University of Kansas athletic department, and his first as the director of marketing and promotions.

Before assuming his new duties in 1988, Haines was an assistant director of the Williams Educational Fund. He will be responsible for the marketing and promotion of all men's and women's sports including fan support and ticket sales for KU's revenue sports.

The Wichita, Kan., native, graduated from KU in 1975 with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, radio and television. After graduating, Haines worked for Commerce Bank in Kansas City in the management training program from 1975-77. Haines then joined Koch Oil Co. working in Denver, Colo., Dallas, Texas, and Oklahoma City, Okla. From 1983-84 Haines worked for Gety Trading and Transportation in Wichita. Before coming to KU, Haines was the executive vice-president of Columbia National Title Insurance.

Haines, 35 (born July 5, 1953), is married to the former Janet Peacock of Madison Heights, Mich. They have one daughter, Melissa, 1.

Four Kansas players have been selected as the NCAA Tournament's Most Valuable Player: Clyde Lovellette 1952, B. H. Born 1953, Wilt Chamberlain 1957, and Danny Manning 1988. Born and Chamberlain won the distinction, despite the fact that Kansas finished second in those years. In 1953, Kansas lost a one point 69-68 decision to Indiana, while the Jayhawks lost the only multiple-overtime championship game ever to North Carolina in triple overtime 54-53 in 1957.

Jeff Bollig — Assistant Sports Information Director

Jeff Bollig is in his third year as assistant sports information director at Kansas. He was elevated to the top assistant position in January of 1987.

A native of Hays, Kan., Bollig previously served as an assistant in the SID office where his responsibilities included handling media relations for eight non-revenue sports and working as copy editor for the KU football program.

In addition to working closely with the day-to-day media relations duties pertaining to football and men's basketball, Bollig serves as media coordinator for the tradition-rich Kansas Relays. He also coordinates media relations for the Kansas Open Golf Tournament and assists in the publicizing of the USTA-sanctioned Mainline Tennis Classic.

Bollig is a May, 1984 graduate of KU with distinction honors. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration with a concentration in journalism. He worked in the Jayhawk sports information office as a student assistant as a senior. Bollig has assisted in the production of several CoSIDA award winning publications, and has won district writing awards.

Bollig continued his education at Wichita State University where he received his master's degree in sports administration in 1986, and served one year as a graduate assistant in the Shocker sports information office.

A runner, the 27-year-old (born Oct. 1, 1961) Bollig is single.

Laurie Layman — Assistant Sports Information Director

The newest addition to the sports information staff, Laurie Layman was appointed to the assistant's position in the summer of 1988.

A Louisville, Ky. native, Layman worked in the Kansas sports information office as a graduate assistant for a year prior to her appointment. During that time she served as an assistant editor of the football and basketball game-day magazines and was also in charge of coordinating media relations for the baseball program.

As an assistant sports information director, Layman oversees publicity and media relations for several non-revenue sports including women's basketball, volleyball, tennis and softball. In addition she serves as the copy editor for the Kansas football program. She has also been recognized by CoSIDA for her publications.

Layman graduated summa cum laude in May, 1987 with a bachelor's degree in journalism from Western Kentucky. She worked in the Hilltopper sports information office as a student assistant for three years in addition to writing for the Evansville (Ind.) Sunday Courier and the Kentucky Post (Covington, Ky.) as a summer reporting intern.

Layman, 23 (born March 29, 1965), is single.

Kansas has had four players recognized as the college player of the year. In addition to Danny Manning's selection last season as the Naismith, Kodak and Basketball Weekly player of the year, Paul Endacott (1923), Charlie Black (1924) and Clyde Lovellette (1952) received the same honor from the Helms Foundation.

Scott McMichael — Assistant Director/ Williams Educational Fund

In his fourth year with the University of Kansas athletic department is Scott McMichael, assistant director of the Williams Educational Fund.

A native of Overland Park, Kan., McMichael graduated from Kansas in 1977 with a degree in business administration. He was a three year letterman in football at KU (1974-76) and a honorable mention All-Big Eight quarterback in 1974. While at KU, McMichael passed for more than 1,300 yards to rank 12th on the all-time list. He was a member of the Jayhawks' 1973 Liberty Bowl and 1975 Sun Bowl teams.

Prior to joining the Williams Educational Fund staff, McMichael was employed by Wilson Sporting Goods as a sales representative in Missouri and Illinois. He travels throughout Kansas working with present and potential Williams Fund donors. He also serves as the director of the K-Club, an organization of past letterwinners at Kansas. He also assists in the parking and ticket allotment for Kansas athletic events.

McMichael, 34 (born September 14, 1954), and his wife Marcia Diane, have two children, Bryce, 7 and Morgan, 4.

SERIES NOTES

- Kansas defeated Oklahoma 83-79 in the NCAA Championship game last season in only the third time two schools from the same conference had met in the title game.
- Oklahoma is one of four teams, and the only conference school, to have scored more than 100 points versus Kansas (103-84 on 1-31-84). Kentucky has scored 100-plus twice and Arkansas and Iowa once.
- Kansas (1981, 1984, 1986), Oklahoma (1979, 1985, 1988) and Missouri (1978, 1982, 1987) are the only conference schools to have won three conference tournament titles.
- Kansas' 1986 Big Eight Conference title is the only league title during the 1980's not won by Oklahoma (1984, 1985, 1988) or Missouri (1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1987).
- Kansas guard Lincoln Minor and Oklahoma guard Mookie Blaylock were teammates at Midland Junior College in 1986 and 1987.
- Although Oklahoma has been one of the dominant conference teams of the 1980's, the Jayhawks own a 15-8 advantage over the Sooners in this decade.
- Kansas is 71-5 in Allen Field House over the past five years, with two of the losses to Oklahoma (1984 and 1988).
- Former Kansas standout Danny Manning broke former Oklahoma All-American Wayman Tisdale's Big Eight Conference scoring record last year in a KU-OU game at Norman.

SERIES NOTES

- Kansas' 109 meetings versus Colorado (72-37) is the fewest number of meetings between the Jayhawks and a conference school.
- Kansas lost to Colorado 46-44 at Kansas City, Mo., in the 1942 NCAA Western Region championship game. The Buffaloes, which finished third in the nation that season, were coached that season by Forrest Cox. Cox played collegiately at Kansas from 1929-31 under Phog Allen.
- Kansas sophomore Mark Randall graduated from Cherry Creek High School in Englewood, Colo. Randall enters the 1988-89 season with four career starts, including one against Colorado.
- Former Colorado great Scott Wedman is a native of Harper, Kan.
- Colorado's Big Eight Conference title in 1969 is the Buffaloes' most recent, and the last won by a team other than Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri or Oklahoma.
- Kansas' longest winning streak against Colorado is seven games (1978-80), while the Buffaloes won four games in a row two different times.
- Although Kansas has dominated the series, the last 10 games between the two teams in Boulder have been split at five wins apiece.
- Colorado head coach Tom Miller was a head coach at Cornell, while Kansas assistant Steve Robinson was an assistant for the Big Red.

SERIES NOTES

- Kansas has met Missouri 216 times, more than any other Jayhawk opponent.
- Along with Oklahoma (1979, 1985, 1988), Kansas (1981, 1984, 1986) and Missouri (1978, 1982, 1987) are the only schools to have won three Big Eight Conference Tournament titles.
- With the exception of the first two meetings between the two schools in 1907, all of the Kansas-Missouri games have been played as conference, holiday tournament or conference tournament games.
- Kansas' longest winning streak against Missouri is 14 games (1910-14). Missouri's longest winning streak against Kansas is nine games (1920-22).
- Kansas owns a 12-9 advantage over Missouri in games during the 1980's.
- In 1988, Kansas finished first in the Big Eight and 11th nationally in field goal percentage at .521, while Missouri was second in the league and 13th nationally at .519.
- Kansas' 112 points in a 112-76 win over Missouri in 1974 is the second highest point total for the Jayhawks.
- Kansas and Missouri are two of five Big Eight Conference institutions with more than 1,000 wins at 1,383 and 1,029 victories, respectively.

SERIES NOTES

- Kansas' first meeting with a Big Eight Conference opponent came on March 2, 1900 as Nebraska won a 48-8 contest in Lincoln.
- Nebraska head coach Danny Nee is 2-3 versus Kansas, which includes a 49-38 loss in the 1985 NCAA Tournament while he was head coach at Ohio.
- Nebraska assistant coach Gary Bargen coached Kansas senior Sean Alvarado at Hutchinson Community College.
- Nebraska, with 986 wins, is 14 victories short of becoming the sixth Big Eight Conference school to reach the 1,000-win plateau.
- Kansas' longest winning streak over Nebraska is 12 wins on two different occasions (1939-45 and 1951-54).
- Nebraska has defeated Kansas in Lincoln, Neb., on last second shots in each of the past two years. In 12 games at the Devaney Sports Center, Nebraska has a 9-3 advantage.
- Nebraska head coach Danny Nee was a high school teammate of Lew Alcindor (Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) and served as a graduate assistant coach at Kansas State in 1972 under Jack Hartman. Current Kansas State head coach Lon Kruger was on that Wildcat team.

SERIES NOTES

- Kansas and Oklahoma State are the only Big Eight Conference schools to have won NCAA Division I basketball titles, with the Jayhawks winning in 1952 and 1988, and the Cowboys in 1945 and 1946.
- Kansas' current 11 game winning streak against Oklahoma State (since 1984) is the longest in the series. Oklahoma State won five straight two different times (1945-47 and 1982-84.)
- Kansas guard Jeff Gueldner has a career high of 10 points four times, including twice against Oklahoma State.
- Kansas senior Lincoln Minor was a teammate of Oklahoma State forward Richard Dumas on the North team at the 1987 Sports Festival. Jayhawk sophomore Mike Maddox competed against Dumas in high school.
- Kansas guard Kevin Pritchard (Tulsa-Edison) and Mike Maddox (Oklahoma City-Putnam City North) are Oklahoma high school graduates.
- Kansas' last triple overtime contest was a 76-73 loss at Oklahoma State, while the Jayhawks' last four overtime game was a 68-64 loss, also at Oklahoma State.
- Kansas' 1,000 all-time win was 71-60 decision over Oklahoma State on February 3, 1969 in Lawrence.

A Look Back at the 1987-88 Season

The Kansas Jayhawks answered destiny's call in miracle fashion last season with a glorious march to the NCAA basketball championship.

It was a stunning, late-season drive that saw the Jayhawks rebound from an unimpressive 12-8 mark in early February to win 15 of their final 18 contests, including an 83-79 victory over Oklahoma for the national title.

Although it began as a season of great expectations for KU, the events that shaped the next five months of competition left little hope that the Jayhawks would qualify among college basketball's elite for the final showdown at Kansas City in early April.

Kansas was forced to overcome adversity in many forms in weaving together a year packed with emotional highs and lows. Consider the following:

- Starting forward Chris Piper missed the first four games of the season after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery and played with pain throughout the year as a result of a groin injury in the summer.
- Starting forward Archie Marshall suffered a season-ending knee injury on Dec. 30 against St. John's.
- Starting center Marvin Branch was ruled ineligible on Jan. 13 for the remainder of the season.
- Starting guard Kevin Pritchard injured his knee in the first game of the conference tournament forcing him out of the lineup for the Jayhawks' second game, which ended in a loss to Kansas State.

Beyond losing regulars during various points of the season, head coach Larry Brown was also without reserve center Sean Alvarado and top reserve foward Mark Randall, who redshirted in 1987-88. Randall decided to seek a medical redshirt after determining that he needed surgery to realign his jaw and correct a breathing problem.

Two other performers who played a key role at times during the season — guard Otis Livingston and center Mike Masucci — were suspended from the team in March.

Major adjustments in the lineup became a regular occurrence as Brown used 12 different starting combinations throughout the 38-game season. The low point in the year came following the Jayhawks' league opening victory over Missouri as they lost five of their next six outings.

When all of the adversity had melted away, Brown took what was remaining and molded together something special. It was a combination of unyielding defense and the sometimes brilliant play of Danny Manning that paved the way to success.

The Jayhawks finished strong in February and March, including victories at Kansas State and Missouri. Their only losses were at Oklahoma and in overtime to Duke at home.

Although Manning occupied center stage for Kansas throughout the year with his impressive play at both ends of the court, it was performances by the remaining cast of characters that keyed the Jayhawks' success in post-season play.

Piper emerged as a defensive specialist on the inside with Kevin Pritchard blossoming into a steady point-guard who contributed defense and offense in impressive style. Milt Newton proved he was an explosive offensive weapon and clutch performer while Jeff Gueldner played a key role at both ends of the court after being inserted into the lineup.

Beyond the obvious contributions of his starting five, Brown relied heavily on his team's bench. Scooter Barry, Lincoln Minor and Clint Normore provided backcourt support with Mike Maddox and Keith Harris giving the Jayhawks valuable inside depth down the stretch.

Kansas entered the NCAA Tournament as the sixth seed in the Midwest Regional in Lincoln, Neb. Most observers didn't expect KU's season to last beyond that round. But the Jayhawks came out of the gate fast against Xavier and won easily, 85-72. It was not so easy, however, against Murray State in its next outing as KU survived a close call against the upstart Racers, 61-58.

Manning and company found themselves in Pontiac, Mich., for the Midwest semifinals with Vanderbilt providing the opposition. Manning burned the Commodores for 38 points helping set the stage for an emotional matchup against rival Kansas State.

The Wildcats defeated Kansas in two of the previous three meetings and seemed poised to erase the Jayhawks' hopes of a spot in the Final Four. K-State led 36-29 at the 18:14 mark of the second half when KU's defense took control. The Wildcats managed to connect on just 32.4 percent in the second half as the Jayhawks cruised to a 13-point margin.

It was a twist of irony that found Kansas once again in the NCAA Final Four with a match against Duke in the first round. Two years earlier, the same two teams squared off in Dallas with Duke getting the upper hand.

Manning and Newton provided the offensive fireworks, outdueling the Blue Devils' standout Danny Ferry and defensive whiz Billy King. Kansas jumped out to a 14-0 lead and withstood a late rally to earn a spot in the finals with a 66-59 win.

Not only was it surprising that Kansas found itself in the national championship game, it was also against all odds that the Jayhawks would be paired with Oklahoma.

The championship contest marked the first time a Big Eight Conference team had reached the finals since Kansas did so in 1957, and it was only the third time that two teams from the same conference had met in the title game.

The two teams set a title game record for total points in a half as they went to the lockerrooms tied at 50-50. It was somewhat of an ironic score considering the tournament marked the 50th anniversary of the event.

The KU defense shined in the second half as Brown reduced the tempo and allowed Manning to take control. For the game, Manning scored 31 points, grabbed 18 rebounds, added five steals, and two blocks and clinched the contest with four free throws in the final seconds to secure the win.

Manning's impact on the record books insure his place as one of college basketball's outstanding players. He left Kansas having established more than three dozen school, Big Eight and NCAA records, including the conference and school mark for points (2,951). He concluded his career as the NCAA's sixth all-time leading scorer.

Kansas also became the first team in the 50-year history of the NCAA Tournament to win the title with more than 10 losses.

It was a year that provided a multitude of thrills for the Kansas faithful. It was also a team that guaranteed themselves a spot in Kansas and college basketball history as one of the most memorable.

Important Dates In 1987-88

May 8, 1987 — Danny Manning announces he will not apply for the NBA hardship draft and will remain at Kansas for his senior year.

Summer 1987 — Returning starter Chris Piper pulls his groin muscle which pulls a piece of the bone away from the pelvis. Piper will play in pain throughout the season with his time limited early on.

Oct. 15 — KU opens pre-season drills with its "Late Night" activities and scrimmage in front of a capacity crowd (15,800) at Allen Field House. Milt Newton is the top scorer with 21. It's announced that 6-10 senior Sean Alvarado will redshirt.

Nov. 24 — Senior Chris Piper undergoes arthroscopic knee surgery after straining his right knee in practice. Slight cartilidge damage is repaired. Piper misses the first four games of the season.

Nov. 27 — Kansas opens the season with an 89-62 win over Chaminade in the Maui Classic. Sophomore forward Mark Randall decides to seek a medical redshirt after determining that he will need surgery to realign his jaw and correct a breathing problem. Randall undergoes surgery on Jan. 4.

Dec. 14 — Clint Normore, a safety on the KU football team, joins the squad for his first practice. Normore makes his debut with the Jayhawk basketball squad on Dec. 19 and scores two points in KU's 74-67 win over North Carolina State.

Dec. 30 — Senior Archie Marshall injures his left knee with 11:34 remaining in the first half against St. John's. Marshall, who misses the rest of the season, had been averaging 10.5 points and 5.0 rebounds in starting the first 11 games.

Jan. 4 — Milt Newton gets his first start of the season as the replacement for Marshall and responds with 12 points in helping KU come from behind to defeat Washington.

Jan. 13 — Starting center Marvin Branch is ruled ineligible for the remainder of the year. Branch averaged 8.4 points and 6.1 rebounds as a starter in the first 14 games. Kansas loses five of its next six games.

Jan. 23 — Kansas loses to Notre Dame 80-76 and falls out of the wire service top 20 for the first time.

Jan. 30 — Kansas State defeats Kansas 72-61 to end the Jayhawks' 55-game homecourt winning streak. The winning streak represents a conference and school record.

Feb. 3 — Oklahoma defeats Kansas 73-65 at Allen Field House. It was the Jayhawks' second straight loss at home and moved Kansas to 12-8 overall and 1-4 in Big Eight Conference play.

Feb. 10 — Danny Manning and Kevin Pritchard combined for 43 points as the Jayhawks defeated Oklahoma State in Stillwater. Jeff Gueldner made his first career start. With Gueldner as a starting guard for all but one of the remaining games, KU went 14-3 to end the year.

Feb. 24 — Danny Manning's 12-footer with 4:42 remaining against Oklahoma in Norman breaks Wayman Tisdale's conference career scoring mark of 2,661 points.

March 5 — Seniors Danny Manning, Chris Piper and Archie Marshall are honored in pregame ceremonies prior to their final appearance at Allen Fieldhouse. Marshall is inserted into the lineup against Oklahoma State at the 1:33 mark in the second half for one brief, final appearance.

March 11 — KU opens play in the conference tournament against Oklahoma State and Pritchard goes down with a right knee sprain late in the first half. Pritchard misses the rest of the OSU game and also sits out KU's second round contest, a 69-54 loss to Kansas State.

March 25 — Manning establishes a new NCAA record by playing in his 144th career game. The old record was held by Georgetown's Patrick Ewing. Manning scores 38 in leading KU past Vanderbilt in the NCAA Midwest Regional.

April 4 — Kansas became the first team in the 50-year history of the NCAA Tournament to win the title with more than 10 losses as it defeats Oklahoma 83-79. The OU-KU matchup was only the third time that two teams from the same conference met in the finals.

April 5 — Nearly 30,000 fans show up at Memorial Stadium as the national champion Jayhawks return to Lawrence for a welcoming party.

April 6 — It is announced that Danny Manning is the 1987-88 recipient of the John Wooden Player of the Year award.

April 8 — CBS sportscaster Jim Lampley reports early Friday morning that KU head coach Larry Brown has accepted the UCLA head coaching job. At 3 p.m. that afternoon, Brown walks into Allen Field House and announces at a press conference that he has decided to stay at Kansas.

April 11 — The Kansas basketball team is honored in Washington at the White House by President Ronald Reagan.

June 13 — Larry Brown resigns to accept the head coaching position with the San Antonio Spurs.

July 8 — KU athletic director Bob Frederick announces the appointment of Roy Williams as head basketball coach. Williams becomes just the seventh coach in the 90-year history of Kansas basketball.

Danny Manning: Career in Review (1985-88)

(See page 139 for career statistics)

In four years at Kansas, Danny Manning led the Jayhawks to a 108-33 record, including a 54-3 mark at home. Additionally, during Manning's tenure, Kansas won a Big Eight Conference regular season and post-season crown, plus four berths in the NCAA Tournament. That NCAA mark included a 13-3 record, highlighted by two Final Four appearances and the 1988 national championship. The 1988 collegiate player-of-the-year, Manning became the first player since 1974 to combine that honor with the NCAA Tournament MVP.

The Big Eight Conference became only the third league in NCAA history to have two member institutions compete for the national championship when Kansas met Oklahoma last year at Kansas City. Additionally, Big Eight members Kansas State, Missouri and Iowa State received NCAA berths. Individually, five Big Eight Conference players were NBA first round selections including Danny Manning, Kansas (Los Angeles Clippers), Mitch Richmond, Kansas State (Golden State), Harvey Grant, Oklahoma (Washington), Derrick Chievous, Missouri (Houston) and Jeff Grayer, Iowa State (Milwaukee). Additionally, the Big Eight Conference ranked third in the nation in attendance.

Game 1 (1-0)
Kansas 89, Chaminade 62
November 27, 1987 at Lahaina Civic Center (3,000)
Maui Classic, Maui, Hawaii

The Jayhawks opened the 1987-88 season with an 89-62 victory over Chaminade in the opening round of the Hawaiian Airlines Maui Classic.

Kansas broke open a tight contest late in the first half and then outscored the Silverswords 20-7 to begin the second period and put the game out of reach. Kansas put five players in double figures in scoring, a feat the Jayhawks had not accomplished the previous season. The 89 points scored also surpassed any point production total of the 1986-87 season.

KU shot 59 percent from the field as All-American forward Danny Manning scored 24 points and grabbed nine rebounds. Junior Milt Newton completed his two-game NCAA suspension relating to travel payment. All other Jayhawks who suited up saw action.

Game 2 (1-1)
Iowa 100, Kansas 81
November 28, 1987 at Lahaina Civic Center (1,500)
Maui Classic, Maui, Hawaii

Big Ten power Iowa proved to be too much for Kansas, as the Hawkeyes defeated KU, 100-81 in the second round of the Maui Classic in Hawaii.

KU jumped to an 18-11 lead early in the first half, but Iowa exploded and outscored the Jayhawks 43-21 to take a 15-point lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

Kansas was plagued by foul trouble throughout the game, sending Iowa to the line for 43 attempts. The 19-point defeat tied for the second largest loss for a KU team under Larry Brown. The Jayhawks hit five more field goals than Iowa, but the story of the game was the Hawkeyes seven rebound advantage, and 27 more made free throws than KU.

The Hawkeyes were led by Jeff Moe, who converted five of seven three-point attempts, and Roy Marble with 22 points each. Three other Iowa players scored in double figures. Senior Danny Manning paced KU with 23 points and seven rebounds.

Game 3 (1-2)
Illinois 81, Kansas 75
November 29, 1987 at Lahaina Civic Center (350)
Maui Classic, Maui, Hawaii

Kansas fell to its second Big Ten opponent in as many days as the Jayhawks dropped the third place contest of the Maui Classic to Illinois, 81-75. As was the instance with Iowa the day before, Kansas owned a small lead early, but sent the Illini to the foul line where it converted on 18 of 30 attempts.

Several Illini scoring spurts and 12 first-half KU turnovers gave Illinois a 15-point lead at the half, 48-33. Midway through the second half the Hawks outscored Illinois 13-2 over a four-minute period to pull to within 60-54 on a Jeff Gueldner basket. Illinois forward Ken Battle hit several clutch baskets in the final minutes to seal the win and tag KU with its second loss in as many days.

Manning, who was a member of the all-tournament team, led all scorers and rebounders with 28 points and 12 boards. Kevin Pritchard added 12 points, all in the second half, for Kansas.

Game 4 (2-2)
Kansas 94, Pomona-Pitzer 38
December 1, 1987 Allen Field House (15,100)

Kansas broke the Big Eight Conference record for consecutive homecourt victories, winning its 49th straight game in Allen Field House, 94-38, against Pomona-Pitzer. The Jayhawks jumped out to a 26-11 lead with 10 minutes left in the first half and never looked back.

Kansas shot a school-record 76 percent from the field, converting 41 of 54 shots. Kansas held the Sagehens to 34 percent shooting for the game. Pomona could manage only 13 points in the second half.

Kevin Pritchard and Marvin Branch led the Hawks in scoring with 17 points apiece. Pritchard added six assists and a career-high seven steals. Branch went to the boards for 12 rebounds. The 56-point margin of victory tied for the third largest overall, and second greatest point spread in Allen Field House.

Game 5 (3-2)
Kansas 68, Western Carolina 63
December 3, 1987 at Cullowhee, N.C. (4,603)

After leading by as many as 21 points in the second half, Kansas fought back a late Western Carolina comeback to defeat the Catamounts, 68-63, in Cullowhee, N.C.

Kansas appeared to be in control until the Catamounts outscored KU 19-3 in the final three and a half minutes of the game. The Jayhawks failed to convert the front end of five bonus opportunities in that period. All-American Danny Manning's 14 second-half points and center Marvin Branch's game-high 11 rebounds held off the Catamount charge. Manning led all scorers with 30 points on 13 of 16 shooting from the field. Senior Chris Piper, who had missed the previous four games after undergoing exploratory knee surgery, saw his first action of the season.

Game 6 (4-2)
Kansas 63, St. John's 54
December 5, 1987 Allen Field House (15,800)

A national television audience and a sold out Allen Field House watched as the Kansas Jayhawks won their 50th consecutive home game, defeating St. John's 63-54.

Shooting more than 68 percent in the first half, KU outscored the Redmen 8-1 late in the first half to break open the game. Led by forward Danny Manning's 12 points, the Jayhawks took a nine-point lead at 33-24 into the lockerroom.

On the strength of eight Kevin Pritchard points, KU stretched the lead to 17, but the Redmen were far from out of the ballgame. Forward Shelton Jones led a St. John's comeback that saw the Redmen as close as six at 54-48 with four minutes remaining. Forced to foul, St. John's put junior guard Otis Livingston on the line. Livingston sank three of four free throw attempts to seal the victory.

Manning led all scorers with 21 points. Pritchard sank eight of 11 field goal attempts enroute to a 17-point night. Sophomore Keith Harris saw his first action of the season by playing two minutes in the first half.

Kansas 73, Appalachian State 62
December 7, 1987 Allen Field House (15,300)

Two late second half Archie Marshall baseline jumpers broke open a tight game and helped KU defeat an upset-minded Appalachian State squad as the Kansas Jayhawks held on to a 73-62 decision in Allen Field House.

After trailing by five at halftime, the Mountaineers kept the heat on Kansas and had a two point lead at 55-53 midway through the second half. KU outscored ASU 18-7 in the final six minutes to hold off the Boone, N.C., school as Marshall scored six of his 14 points in that run. Senior Chris Piper had his best night since an early season knee surgery as he went 4-4 and scored nine points. Guard Scooter Barry had career highs in minutes (30), rebounds (5) and points (10), as he spelled Kevin Pritchard and Lincoln Minor who had fouled out earlier.

December 12, 1987 Allen Field House (15,800)

Holding Rider to 30 percent shooting for the game, Kansas won its sixth game in a row, defeating the Broncs, 110-72, in Allen Field House.

The Broncs were within six points at 31-25, with just over six minutes left in the half, but the Jayhawks outscored Rider 21-11 to take a 52-36 lead into the lockerroom. Rider got no closer than 12 in the second period as KU put all 13 players in the scoring column. The Jayhawks shot 70 percent for the game and won their 52nd consecutive home contest.

The Broncs attempted 29 three-point goals, the most by any KU opponent, but converted only five. Senior Danny Manning held Rider's leading scorer, Ron Simpson, to 17 points and three rebounds while scoring 30 points and grabbing 14 boards. Kansas guard Scooter Barry made his first collegiate start and tied a career high with five assists.

Game 9 (7-2)
Kansas 74, North Carolina State 67
December 19, 1987 at Raleigh, N.C. (12,715)

Clawing its way back from a nine-point second half deficit, Kansas defeated North Carolina State, 74-67, in front of a record crowd in Raleigh, N.C.

Trailing 45-36 early in the second half, the Jayhawks outscored N.C. State 18-9, to tie it at 54 on an Archie Marshall baseline jumper with 10 minutes left. Marshall and senior Danny Manning each had seven points during that stretch.

The teams traded baskets before the Wolfpack built a three-point lead with six minutes left. Manning then scored seven of KU's last 13 points while the Jayhawk defense held State to just three more. Manning's 32-point performance marked the third time this season the forward scored 30 or more. KU's defense held Wolfpack center Charles Shackleford to two points in the second half and 10 for the game.

Sophomore Scooter Barry had a career-high seven assists, and junior Otis Livingston made his first career start. Junior Clint Normore scored his first points as a Jayhawk, connecting on a first-half layup. Normore, a member of the Kansas football team, joined the squad earlier in the week.

Kansas 64, Memphis State 62
December 28, 1987 at New York, N.Y. (10,000)
First Round — ECAC Holiday Festival

Despite having its poorest shooting night of the season, Kansas defeated Memphis State, 64-62, in the opening round of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden.

The Jayhawks, who hadn't shot under 40 percent all season, connected on only 37.9 percent of their shots from the field but held the Tigers to just 29-percent shooting. After being down 2-0 early, KU came back to lead throughout the entire first period, taking a 32-27 lead into the locker room. MSU tied the game at 36 five minutes into the second half. KU then built an eight-point advantage but couldn't shake the Tigers who cut it to three, 62-59, with less than a minute to play on free throws by John McLaughlin. Kevin Pritchard connected on both ends of the bonus to give KU breathing room with 15 seconds remaining. Elliot Perry's three-pointer at the buzzer provided the final margin.

Seniors Danny Manning and Archie Marshall led Kansas with 19 and 16 points, respectively. Manning pulled down a season-high 16 rebounds, one short of his career high.

Championship Game — ECAC Holiday Festival

Kansas' shooting problems continued into the championship round of the ECAC Holiday Festival as the Jayhawks lost to St. John's, 70-56, in Madison Square Garden.

KU led 31-29 at the half, but the Redmen outscored Kansas 13-2 to open the second period. The Jayhawks never got closer than five. St. John's took advantage of KU's cold shooting (a season-low 32.7 percent) to avenge a 63-54 loss to Kansas earlier in the season.

Danny Manning, who scored a game-high 24 points, was the only Jayhawk in double figures. The Redmen were led by Shelton Jones with 17, one of three St. John's players in double digits.

The Jayhawks lost the services of starting forward Archie Marshall for the season. Marshall suffered ligament damage in his left knee at the 11:34 mark in the first half.

Game 12 (9-3)
Kansas 67, Washington 57
January 4, 1988 at Seattle, Wash. (6,079)

Despite being down by 19 at one point in the first half, Kansas used a tenacious defense and the scoring of Lincoln Minor and Milt Newton to defeat Washington, 67-57, in Seattle.

The Jayhawks fell behind, 29-10, with nine minutes left in the first period. The Huskies went five of seven from three-point range and shot over 57 percent during the half to take a 35-28 lead.

Kansas slowly fought its way back in the second half. Minor converted two Otis Livingston steals into layups to tie the game at 44 with 11:22 left. The Jayhawks controlled the tempo from that point, Newton, replacing injured forward Archie Marshall in the starting lineup, sank two three-pointers and Minor scored six points to lead KU to the final margin. Danny Manning led all scorers with 17 points. Minor, enroute to a career high 15 points, grabbed seven rebounds to lead Kansas.

Kansas 90, American 69
January 6, 1988 Allen Field House (15,400)

Junior Marvin Branch scored a career high 20 points, and Kansas made a season high 35 free throws as the Jayhawks defeated American, 90-69, to extend its homecourt winning streak to 53 consecutive games.

KU held the Eagles scoreless for five minutes in the first half stretching a one-point lead to a 21-7 advantage midway through the period. American's leading scorer, Mike Sampson, scored his first basket with nine minutes left in the game and only managed three points for the night. The Eagles cut KU's 22-point halftime lead to 12 at 64-52 with eight minutes left, but the Jayhawks scored 17 of the next 23 points to put the game out of reach.

Kansas made more free throws than it did field goals, converting 35 of 54 from the line. Four KU players scored in double figures. Branch's 20 points and Danny Manning's 14 rebounds were game highs.

Game 14 (11-3)
Kansas 78, Missouri 74
January 9, 1988 Allen Field House (15,800)

Milt Newton scored the first eight Kansas points, and the Jayhawks converted 10 of 11 free throws late in the game to defeat Missouri, 78-74, in the conference opener for both schools.

The Jayhawks and Tigers answered one another's scoring streaks in the first half with KU taking a 34-31 lead at the break.

Missouri fought back to tie the game seven times in the second period, the last time at 58-58 with six minutes left. Four points apiece by Danny Manning and Marvin Branch led an 8-1 spurt to put Kansas up by seven. Missouri answered with Derrick Chievous' three-point goal at the 1:29 mark to cut the KU lead to 70-67. Another three-pointer by Lee Coward and a jumper by Greg Church made it 76-74 with eight seconds left. But KU's Scooter Barry hit both ends of the bonus to ice the game. Chievous' three-point attempt at the buzzer missed, and a sellout crowd saw Kansas extend its homecourt winning streak to 54 consecutive games.

Newton poured in a career-high 21 points and Manning broke the Big Eight record for consecutive games started, getting the nod for the 117th time in a row.

Game 15 (11-4)
Iowa State 88, Kansas 78
January 13, 1988 at Ames, Iowa (14,526)

Kansas found itself down by as many as 17 in the first half and couldn't make up the difference in the second, losing for the fifth consecutive time at Iowa State, 88-78.

The Jayhawks stayed close early, tying the game at 11 with 13 minutes to go, but Iowa State scored the next seven points and steadily built the lead to 17 with 3:59 remaining in the half. KU cut the margin to 11 at the break, 42-31. On the strength of 20 second-half points by Danny Manning, Kansas got as close as six, 82-76, with just over a minute left in the game. The Jayhawks were playing their first contest without junior Marvin Branch who was declared ineligible earlier in the day.

Manning tied his season-high with 32 points and he also grabbed 14 rebounds as KU dropped to 1-1 in the conference. Milt Newton had a career-high 12 rebounds.

Using size and experience to its advantage, Kansas outmanned Hampton 95-69. Every Jayhawk played and scored, as KU stretched its homecourt winning streak to 55 games.

Danny Manning poured in 15 first half points as the Jayhawks took a 43-30 lead at halftime. KU outscored the Pirates 16-4 to open the second period and led by as many as 32 points throughout the half. In addition to holding the Pirates to just 39-percent shooting, the Jayhawks held Pirate leading scorer Peltre Williams to six points. Manning set a school record for career blocked shots, rejecting his 157th shot. Junior Milt Newton scored in double figures for the fifth consecutive game in place of the injured Archie Marshall.

Game 17 (12-5)
Notre Dame 80, Kansas 76
January 23, 1988 at South Bend, Ind. (11,418)

David Rivers hit four free throws in the last 12 seconds, en route to a 29-point day, as Notre Dame came back from 11 down to beat Kansas, 80-76.

KU led 61-53 with 11:14 left in the game, but the Irish went on a 9-0 spurt to take the lead, 62-61, on a Gary Voce three-point play. Mark Stevenson had six points during the comeback which saw the Irish shooting 85 percent from the field. Kevin Pritchard's three-pointer tied the game for the final time at 72 with 1:13 left. A basket by Voce and free throws by Rivers put the Irish up 76-72, but Danny Manning hit a follow shot to pull KU back to within two, 76-74. Manning had a chance to tie the game with 16 seconds left but missed the front end of bonus opportunity. Chris Piper got the rebound, but it bounced off his leg and went out of bounds. Rivers sandwiched free throws around a Lincoln Minor jumper to ice the game.

Game 18 (12-6)
Nebraska 70, Kansas 68
January 27, 1988 at Lincoln, Neb. (14,015)

A last-second basket by Beau Reid lifted Nebraska over Kansas, 70-68, in Lincoln.

The Cornhuskers stayed close throughout most of the first half, trailing 30-24 with three minutes left in the period. Kansas then outscored NU 10-4 to lead 40-28 at the half.

Kansas was up by as many as 16, the last time at 54-38, with 12:00 minutes left. Led by Henry Buchanan's 16 second-half points, the Huskers fought back from that deficit to pull to within one at 67-66. KU's Otis Livingston went to the line with 53 seconds left and hit one of two bonus free throws to put KU up by two, 68-66.

The Huskers' Derrick Vick tied the game at 68 with 24 seconds left on two free throws. Kansas had a chance to work for the last shot, but Danny Manning dribbled the ball off his leg, and after an NU timeout, Reid sank the winning shot.

Game 19 (12-7)
Kansas State 72, Kansas 61
January 30, 1988 Allen Field House (15,800)

Mitch Richmond's 35-point performance sparked a Kansas State rally as the Wildcats came back from 10 down to beat Kansas, 72-61, and end the Jayhawks' 55-game homecourt winning streak.

Down 22-12 with eight minutes left in the first half, K-State fought back to tie the game 29-29. A 10-foot jumper by Danny Manning with 26 seconds left in the period put KU up 31-29 at the break.

The score remained close in the second half with no team leading by more than four until Wildcat guard Steve Henson hit a three-pointer with six minutes left to put K-State up 52-49. KSU outscored the Jayhawks 12-5 to increase its lead to 62-54. Forced to foul, KU could get no closer than five, at 64-59, with 51 seconds left in the game. The Wildcats converted eight bonus free throw attempts to seal the victory.

Manning became only the second player in KU history to go over the 1,000-career rebound mark. His eight boards gave him 1,001. Guard Kevin Pritchard had a career-high eight assists, and Jeff Gueldner established a career-high 10 points.

Game 20 (12-8)
Oklahoma 73, Kansas 65
February 3, 1988 Allen Field House (15,800)

Despite Danny Manning's 28 points and 16 rebounds, Kansas lost to seventh-ranked Oklahoma, 73-65, as the Jayhawks lost their second consecutive game in Allen Field House.

Stacey King and Ricky Grace scored 19 points apiece and helped hold off a second-half comeback by Kansas. Trailing by seven in the first period, the Jayhawks came back to go ahead, 20-19, on a Manning turnaround. KU took a 31-29 lead into the lockerroom.

Three-pointers by Grace and Dave Sieger spurred a 19-8 Sooner run that saw a one-point OU lead balloon to a 12-point advantage. Kansas fought back to trail by five, 64-59, with three minutes left in the game. But Lincoln Minor missed the front end of a bonus opportunity, and the Sooners converted five of six free throws to seal the win.

Freshman center Mike Masucci made his first collegiate start, and Kevin Pritchard set his season-high in rebounds with five. Manning broke the Big Eight record for consecutive games played, appearing in his 129th straight game.

Game 21 (13-8)
Kansas 73, Colorado 62
February 6, 1988 Allen Field House (14,100)

Danny Manning hit his first nine field goals and Kansas snapped a four-game losing streak, defeating the Colorado Buffaloes, 73-62, in Allen Field House. The loss extended the Buffs' losing streak to six straight games.

In a game of scoring spurts, Kansas scored the first six points, but the Buffaloes came back to tie the game at 16 with 10 minutes left in the half. CU then went on a 9-0 run to go up 25-16 at the six-minute mark. The Hawks answered with another scoring spurt, including eight points by Manning, and tied the game at 30. Kansas led 34-32 at halftime.

The Jayhawks opened the second half with an eight-point run, but CU came back to trail by three, 42-39, with 14 minutes remaining. Capitalizing on turnovers and a technical foul on Colorado coach Tom Miller, Kansas put the game out of reach, outscoring the Buffs, 12-3 over the next seven minutes.

Kevin Pritchard tied a season-high with 17 points, and Manning set a season-high with four assists.

Game 22 (14-8)
Kansas 78, Oklahoma State 68
February 10, 1988 at Stillwater, Okla. (6,381)

Kansas used effective perimeter shooting to build an early lead and converted free throws late in the game to maintain that lead, beating Oklahoma State, 78-68, for its first conference road win of the season.

Jeff Gueldner, making his first career start, opened the game with a three-pointer as KU jumped out to a 7-2 lead. The Jayhawks led by as many as 11 at 19-8 midway through the half, but Oklahoma State cut the lead to five, 33-28 at halftime.

Milt Newton opened the second period with 10 points, including two three-pointers, to build the Jayhawk lead back to 11. Danny Manning's three-point play with 12 minutes left put KU up, 49-37. Led by nine Royce Jeffries points, the Cowboys got back to within four at 63-59 with 3:08 left, but Manning scored 10 points and KU hit 11 of 13 free throws to extend the lead to 13 points. John Starks' three pointer in the last few seconds cut the final deficit to 10 points.

Kevin Pritchard set a season-high with 20 points, and KU converted all six three-point attempts. Manning tied the Big Eight record for career games started, making his 130th start.

February 13, 1988 Allen Field House (15,500)

Danny Manning's season-high 39 points keyed a Kansas win over struggling Iowa State, 82-72, stretching the Jayhawks' win streak to three conference games.

Kansas took an early 7-0 lead and used an 8-0 scoring spurt to go ahead 20-6 with 14 minutes left in the first half. The Cyclones pulled to within six on an Elmer Robinson jumper, but Manning scored seven points during another KU run to put the Jayhawks up, 42-26. KU led at the half, 44-34.

Kansas, which shot 58 percent in the second half, extended its lead to as many as 19 in the final period, the last time being 68-49 with 11 minutes left. The Cyclones could pull no closer than the final margin of 10 points.

Manning also set season highs for assists with seven and steals with six. Clint Normore established a career high with seven points, and Jeff Gueldner tied his season high with 10 points. Chris Piper's seven rebounds tied his season high. Junior varsity players Brad Wahl and Marvin Mattox saw their first varsity action.

Game 24 (16-8)
Kansas 70, Nebraska 48
February 16, 1988 Allen Field House (15,200)

Tenacious first-half defense enabled Kansas to build an early lead, and the Jayhawks made it stand, defeating Nebraska, 70-48, en-route to their fourth straight conference win.

The Jayhawks raced out to a 10-2 lead, stretching that advantage to 26-6 with 7:21 left in the first half. Kansas, which committed only seven turnovers for the game, held the Cornhuskers without a basket for more than eight minutes. Four of Nebraska's first eight points came from the free throw line. Kansas extended its lead to 46-23 at the half.

Nebraska opened the second half by holding the Jayhawks to five points through the first seven minutes but got no closer than 20 throughout the half, trailing 68-48 with 35 seconds left. Danny Manning was one of three Jayhawks in double figures, scoring 21 points. Nebraska's Pete Manning had 21 for the Huskers.

Game 25 (17-8)
Kansas 64, Kansas State 63
February 18, 1988 at Manhattan, Kan. (11,220)

Kevin Pritchard's three-pointer with 29 seconds left in the game broke a 61-61 tie and Jeff Gueldner's steal with two seconds left preserved the win as Kansas defeated Kansas State, 64-63, in the last game played between the two teams in Ahearn Field House.

The Wildcats hit their first six shots as KSU went up 11-7. Danny Manning's 10 points in a four-minute span put KU up by three, 22-19, with just over nine minutes left in the half. The Jayhawks led by six with a minute to go, but a Ron Meyer jumper at the buzzer cut KU's halftime advantage to 38-34.

Kansas went up by eight, 42-34, on a Milt Newton jumper, but six Charles Bledsoe points gave K-State its first lead of the half, 50-49, with 9:48 left. The game was tied four times over the next eight minutes, the last time at 61-61 with 1:34 left. Pritchard then connected on his third three-point shot to break the tie. Mitch Richmond scored his only two points of the half on a five-foot baseline jumper to pull the Wildcats to within one at 64-63. Keith Harris missed the front end of a bonus opportunity, and Kansas State rebounded with three seconds left. After a timeout, K-State's Fred McCoy juggled the inbound lob pass and Gueldner scooped it up at the buzzer.

February 22, 1988 Allen Field House (15,800)

Sixth-ranked Duke erased a six-point Kansas overtime lead to defeat the Jayhawks, 74-70, in front of a national television audience.

KU and the Blue Devils ended regulation tied at 60. Danny Manning scored Kansas' first five points, and Kevin Pritchard added a jumper to put the Jayhawks up 67-61 with three minutes left in the extra period. Duke's Quin Snyder hit a three-pointer and then sank one of two free throws to pull the Blue Devils to within one at 68-67. Kevin Strickland's follow with 56 seconds left put Duke ahead for good, 69-68. Lincoln Minor's layup with five seconds left made it 72-70, but Snyder hit two free throws for the final deficit.

Kansas jumped out to an early 23-8 lead, holding Duke without a basket for a six-minute stretch. KU then went cold as Duke cut away at the lead and pulled to within two, 25-23. Kansas led 28-27 at the half.

Snyder's three-pointer and layup put Duke up 50-43 with 11:14 left in the second half. Manning converted four free throws and a jumper to give KU a 56-52 lead. Duke's Danny Ferry, held to eight points in the first half, hit a short jump shot to tie the game at 60 and send it into overtime.

Game 27 (17-10)
Oklahoma 95, Kansas 87
February 24, 1988 at Norman, Okla. (9,785)

Danny Manning established himself as the Big Eight's career leading scorer as his jump shot with five minutes left in the game put him ahead of Oklahoma's Wayman Tisdale ('83-85) on the conference scoring chart. But Manning's 30-point effort couldn't hold off the Sooners, as OU defeated Kansas, 95-87.

Trailing throughout most of the game, Kansas cut the lead to three at 83-80 with 2:00 left on a Milt Newton three-pointer. OU converted six of seven free throws during an 8-0 run to put the game out of reach, 91-80, with 43 seconds left.

KU stayed close in the first half, leading 8-7 early, but Oklahoma went ahead to stay on a three-pointer by Ricky Grace. With OU leading 35-26 at the 3:37 mark, Manning scored six unanswered points to cut the Sooner advantage to three, 35-32, at the half.

A Newton three-pointer tied the game at 40, but OU converted six treys during a four-minute stretch to put the Sooners up 59-46 with 14 minutes to go. Kansas then cut away at the lead, pulling to within three.

Game 28 (18-10)
Kansas 82, Missouri 77
February 27, 1988 at Columbia, Mo. (13,610)

Kansas ended Missouri's 21-game homecourt win streak as Danny Manning scored 37 points and grabbed eight rebounds enroute to an 82-77 win. Manning scored 23 first half points, a career high for one half, as the Jayhawks raced to an early advantage.

Kansas trailed at 8-6, but then blitzed Missouri for 20 straight points to lead 26-8. Manning hit 9 of 11 shots and all five free throw attempts as the Jayhawks led at half 38-29. The Tigers countered by inserting the front line of Gary Leonard (7-1), Nathan Buntin (6-8) and Doug Smith (6-10), and went to work inside. A Lee Coward three-point jumper with 12:04 remaining narrowed the Kansas lead to 52-50.

The Jayhawks countered with three-pointers by Milt Newton and Kevin Pritchard, followed by a conventional three-point play by Pritchard to extend the lead to 10 at 76-66 with 2:10 left. Scooter Barry hit four free throws in the final 1:40 to seal the win, and give Kansas sole possession of third place in the Big Eight Conference. The stingy Jayhawk defense held an opponent below 50% shooting for the 10th straight game.

Game 29 (19-10)
Kansas 85, Colorado 64
March 2, 1988 at Boulder, Colo. (6,886)

Danny Manning made his first five shots, and Kansas held Colorado to 25.0 percent shooting in the second half to hold off the Buffaloes, 85-64.

Shooting 57.0 percent in the first half, the Jayhawks led by as many as 11 points, up 33-22 with 5:34 remaining in the period. Colorado came back to trail by three at the half, 37-34.

The Buffs went up by two early in the second half when Steve Wise's three-pointer made it 44-42 with 15:48 remaining. Kevin Pritchard's three-point play a few seconds later put Kansas ahead for good. The Jayhawks stretched their advantage to 14 with 4:47 left when Scooter Barry converted two consecutive layups to make it 67-53.

Without the services of Manning and Milt Newton, who along with CU's Brian Robinson were ejected for fighting, Kansas built a 20-point lead inside the 1:30 mark and won by 21-point margin.

Game 30 (20-10)
Kansas 75, Oklahoma State 57
March 5, 1988 Allen Field House (15,800)

After honoring seniors Chris Piper, Danny Manning and Archie Marshall in their final game at Allen Field House, Kansas overcame a slow start defeating Oklahoma State, 75-57, to end the regular season.

The Cowboys led early, 5-2, but five points apiece by Manning and Milt Newton led a 10-0 run to make it 12-5 with 12:43 left in the half. Oklahoma State closed the gap to six at 26-20 just before halftime, but Manning scored four more of his 17 first-half points to put the Jayhawks up 30-20 at intermission.

Kansas opened the second period outscoring OSU 12-4 to go up by 18 with 16:12 left in the game. The Jayhawks led by as many as 21, and Oklahoma State go no closer than 16 through the remainder of the half.

Manning finished his career in Lawrence with 31 points, 10 rebounds and 6 assists. The All-American scored 30 or more points in nine games during the regular season. Piper bowed out with 10 points and six rebounds. Marshall, whose career ended with a knee injury versus St. John's earlier in the season, checked in for one minute and attempted a three-pointer before checking out to thunderous applause.

Big Eight Conference Post Season Tournament

Kansas opened the first round of the Big Eight Conference Tournament at Kemper Arena, site of the NCAA Final Four, with a 74-58 victory over Oklahoma State. Junior forward Milt Newton scored a career-high 29 points to pace the Jayhawks.

Newton took up the slack for All-American forward Danny Manning, who was limited to just 12 points by a box-and-one OSU defense. Kansas was impressive early in the contest, jumping out to a 15-2 advantage after just over seven minutes into the game. The Cowboys fought back, however, and outscored Kansas 19-10 in the final 10 minutes of the half and trailed by just two points (27-25) at intermission.

Kansas took command in the second half, outscoring OSU 9-2 in the first three minutes of the half. Newton scored 20 of his 29 points in the final stanza. KU's tough defense fueled the win as Oklahoma State connected on just .317 of its field goal attempts while KU was successful on .538 of its tries from the field.

The game was costly for KU as starting guard Kevin Pritchard suffered a knee sprain late in the half which sidelined him for the remainder of the game and the tournament.

Big Eight Conference Post Season Tournament

The Jayhawks' hopes for a conference tournament championship were ended in impressive fashion by rival Kansas State in the semifinal round as the Wildcats took a 69-54 win.

Kansas, playing without injured guard Kevin Pritchard, went into an early hole as K-State vaulted out to a 25-10 lead after 10 minutes of the game. KU fought back but still trailed by 11 (34-23) at halftime.

Kansas managed to hit just .415 from the field while the Wildcats became the first opponent to shoot over .500 in 14 games against the tough Jayhawk defense as they connected on 23 of 41 (.561) of their attempts.

With Pritchard on the sidelines, the KU guards (Jeff Gueldner and Scooter Barry) went 0-6 from the field and accounted for just two points. Freshman Mike Maddox came off the bench to give Kansas a lift as he scored 12 points, including a pair of three-point field goals. Manning paced the Jayhawks with 18 points and 10 rebounds.

Kansas never trailed in defeating 17th-ranked Xavier 85-72 to advance to the second round of the 1988 NCAA Tournament Midwest Sub-Regional. The Jayhawks bolted to a 48-29 halftime lead and stretched it to as many as 25 points at 54-29 early in the second half.

Kansas slapped a tenacious man-to-man defense on the Muskateers and stretched a 32-24 lead with 6:37 left in the first half to the 19-point intermission advantage. Xavier shot only .320 in the first half, and ended up shooting only .375 for the game. The Muskateers managed to draw as close as eight with 2:50 left in the game, but were kept at bay by the Jayhawks' .647 second half shooting.

For the contest, Milt Newton tied a career high with 12 rebounds, while Chris Piper had a career high nine rebounds and seven assists. Danny Manning recorded his 44th double-double of his career. Xavier's .375 field goal shooting was the 14th time in 15 games in which Kansas opponents had shot below .500.

Game 34 (23-11)
Kansas 61, Murray State 58
March 20, 1988 at Lincoln, Neb. (14,453)
NCAA Midwest Regional

Kansas held off a spirited bunch of Murray State Racers 61-58 to advance to the NCAA Tournament round of 16 for the third consecutive season. The Jayhawks appeared to have the game under control as they erased an 11-9 deficit with 13:03 remaining in the half and expanded the lead to 25-13 with 5:11 left in the first stanza.

Murray State, as it did in the opening round versus N.C. State, did not fold as the Racers used a late first half six-point scoring blitz by Don Mann to make it 28-23 in favor of Kansas at the half. The Racers came out in the second period and grabbed a 34-32 lead, but the Jayhawks were kept in the game by Kevin Pritchard's 10 points in a 2:05 period midway through the second half.

The lead see-sawed for the final seven minutes as Jeff Martin gave Murray State its largest lead at 56-53 with 3:51 remaining. Kansas countered with a Danny Manning tip and a jumper by Milt Newton to put Kansas up at 57-56 with :50 left. Martin answered with two free throws to put the Racers ahead, only to have Manning's hook with :37 left put Kansas ahead for good. Murray State went for the last shot, but Mann's shot in the lane was long, and Manning sealed the win with a rebound and two free throws with :01 remaining.

Behind All-American Danny Manning's 38 points, the Kansas Jayhawks overwhelmed the Vanderbilt Commodores, 77-64, in the NCAA Midwest Regional semifinal game. The victory gave Kansas the right to face cross-state rival Kansas State in the regional finals.

Manning was all the offense the Jayhawks needed as he connected on 12 of 17 field goal attempts for 25 first-half points. Kansas jumped out to a 19-4 lead in the opening 10 minutes of the contest, leading 41-29 at the intermission.

KU never looked back in the second period as the Commodores could get only as close as nine, trailing 60-51 at the 6:10 mark. The Jayhawk defense held Vandy's 7-0 center Will Perdue to just 16 points.

Kansas shot .526 (30 of 57) from the field, holding Vanderbilt to .439 shooting — the 16th time in the last 17 games the Jayhawks have held opponents to under .500 from the field.

KU guard Kevin Pritchard scored 11 points, and guard Scooter Barry and forward Chris Piper added eight points each.

NCAA Midwest Regional Final

The Kansas Jayhawks earned their second trip in three years to the NCAA Final Four by defeating cross-state rival Kansas State 71-58 in Pontiac, Mich.

In the teams' fourth meeting of the year, Kansas State jumped out on top on the strength of Will Scott's 13 first half points and led by as many as five in the first half. Scott's jumper with 47 seconds left gave K-State a 29-24 lead. Kansas managed to cut the lead to two points at the half, 29-27, on a last second three-point jumper by guard Scooter Barry.

Kansas State came out firing in the second half and built the lead to seven points, 36-29 at the 18:14 mark. The Jayhawks' defense took over and held K-State to .324 percent shooting in the second half. Four points each by All-American forward Danny Manning and forward Chris Piper helped KU erase K-State's seven point lead. Forward Keith Harris put Kansas ahead for good 43-42 on a break away dunk with 13:51 left in the second half. From there Kansas never looked back as it cruised to a 13 point victory.

Kansas' defense held K-State's leading scorer forward Mitch Richmond to 11 points for the game. Barry surpassed career highs with 15 points and five rebounds. Manning led all scorers with 20 points.

Kansas 66, Duke 59
April 2, 1988 at Kansas City, Mo. (16,392)
NCAA Semifinals

The Jayhawks avenged a loss from earlier in the season to Duke in downing the Blue Devils 66-59 for the right to advance to the NCAA Championship game. As was the case in Lawrence on February 22, the Jayhawks raced to a quick lead. Kansas scored the first 14 points of the game and eventually stretched the margin to 18 at 24-6 midway through the first half.

Duke began to chip away at Kansas' 38-27 halftime lead, drawing to within three at 55-52 with 4:14 remaining. The Jayhawk lead stayed at three until the 2:41 mark when an 11-4 spurt made it 66-56 with :10 left. The win was sealed as Kansas hit 7 of 9 free throws in the final two minutes. For the game Kansas' defense limited Duke to 34.3 percent shooting, marking the 18th time in the last 19 games that Kansas has held an opponent below 50.0 percent shooting.

Danny Manning continued his impressive NCAA Tournament as he scored 25 points and captured 10 rebounds. He added to his NCAA record of double figure scoring games at 131. He also added four steals and an NCAA Semifinal record six blocks. Milt Newton connected on 8 of 14 shots, including 2 of 3 from three-point range for 20 points. The win not only avenged an earlier season loss to Duke, but was also a payback to the Blue Devils for their 71-67 1986 NCAA Semifinal win over the Jayhawks. Kansas head coach Larry Brown joined former North Carolina coach Frank McGuire as the only two coaches to lead two different schools to the NCAA title game.

Game 38 (27-11)
Kansas 83, Oklahoma 79
April 4, 1988 at Kansas City, Mo. (16,392)
NCAA Finals

Kansas became the first team in the 50-year history of the NCAA Tournament to win the title with more than 10 losses as it defeated Oklahoma 83-79. The Jayhawks averted a Sooner sweep of the season series as Oklahoma had won the two regular season meetings between the two schools. The championship contest also marked the first time a Big Eight Conference team had reached the finals since Kansas did so in 1957, and it was only the third time that two teams from the same conference had met in the title game.

The two teams set a title game record for total points in a half as they went to the locker rooms tied at 50-50. The Jayhawks were able to put the pressure on the Sooners as they shot 71.0 percent in the opening period. Oklahoma countered by hitting on 7 of 11 three-point attempts in the half, including six by Dave Sieger.

The second half was a contrast to the first as Kansas dictated a slower tempo. The Sooners appeared to have the game under control with 12:13 left leading 65-60, but Danny Manning's heroics down the stretch fueled the Kansas comeback. Manning scored 13 points in the final 11:13, including four free throws in the final minute to secure the win. Manning concluded his career at Kansas with 2,951 points, the sixth highest in NCAA history and second highest NCAA Tournament career point total at 328. He was joined by teammate Milt Newton on the NCAA Final Four all-tournament team.

The Jayhawks also limited Oklahoma to 42.9 percent shooting from the field. It marked the 19th time in the last 20 games that Kansas had held an opponent below 50.0 shooting.

Allen Field House

Named in honor of the late Dr. F. C. "Phog" Allen, the Jayhawks' head coach for 39 years, Kansas' field house is one of the largest on-campus playing arenas in the nation in terms of capacity. The field house was dedicated March 1, 1955, as the Jayhawks defeated Kansas State, 77-67, before an overflow throng of 17,228.

College basketball writer Mark Whicker of the Orange County Register calls Allen Field House "the best place to watch college basketball."

Seating capacity for the building was increased from 15,200 to 15,800 with the addition of more seats around the top and above the team entrances prior to the 1986-87 season. Allen Field House is the largest sports ediface in the state of Kansas topping Kansas State's Bramlage Coliseum by 2,000 seats and Wichita State's Levitt Arena by nearly 5,000. Since the 1964-65 season, more than 4 million people have attended Kansas games at Allen Field House.

In addition to the new seats, several other renovations were completed in 1986 including a new sound system, a new tartan under surface and the basketball floor itself was refinished with the addition of map of the state of Kansas at center court. Performing the artwork on the floor was Bob Huggins of Lankford Enterprises of Stanley, Kan.

Kansas' Monarch of the Midlands, located in the southern sector of the campus, carries these dimensions: outside 344 feet by 254 feet, rising three stories above the ground; sidewalls 60 feet high; roof peak 85 feet; clear height at center 78 feet; arena 252 by 341 overall. It's original construction cost was $2.5 million.

A balcony surrounds the entire arena, seating approximately 65 percent of 15,800 total. Permanent bleachers were installed prior to the 1985-86 season on all four sides of the court to improve basketball seating capacity. The new aluminum bleachers replaced the wooden bleachers which had been in use since the building's dedication in 1955. Cost of the renovation was $250,000.

With the completion of the Anschutz Sports Pavilion in 1984, Allen Field House returned to its original intent, that of a basketball arena. In the past, the building served as the home for the Kansas men's and women's track teams as well as the practice facility for baseball, softball, and football. Allen Field House was also the host of several NCAA Regional Tournament Games.

Presently the field house serves primarily the men's and women's basketball teams, as well as serving for stage shows and major addresses, and for commencement and baccalaureate ceremonies when weather makes it necessary to move indoors.

All administrative and coaching offices for the department of intercollegiate athletics are located in Allen Field House and in the Parrott Athletic Center, annexed to the field house in 1970. A football dress and training facility was added to the Parrott Center opening in August of 1976.

Season-by-Season Records

The 1988-89 season marks the 33rd complete campaign that Allen Field House will serve as home for the Jayhawks. Including the final two games of the 1954-55 season, this year will be the 34rd of its existence.

The first game ever played in the 15,800-seat structure was on March 1, 1955, against Kansas State. It was also the dedication game as Kansas won, 77-67. All totaled Kansas has played 419 games in Allen Field House heading into the 1988-89 season with a 335-84 record for an 80.0 winning percentage.

Not counting the 1954-55 season (when KU finished 2-0 in the facility) Kansas has been undefeated in Allen Field House seven times. Three other times the Jayhawks have dropped only one in Allen Field House. Kansas is 71-5 in Allen Field House in the past five years.

Dr. James Naismith, "The Father of Basketball," is the only coach in Kansas history to have registered a losing record, 55-60 from 1899-1907. Naismith, was also an instructor of physical education and director of Chapel at Kansas and administered physicals to incoming freshmen until 1933. He is also credited with being a major force in getting basketball included in the Summer Olympics. Naismith died in 1939 and is buried at Memorial Park Cemetery in Lawrence.

History of Kansas Basketball

Just seven years after he strung the first peach baskets up in 1891 in Springfield, Mass., Dr. James A. Naismith, "The Father of Basketball," introduced the sport of basketball to the University of Kansas in the winter of 1898 as a game to occupy students between football and baseball seasons.

Little would he realize, but in the 91 years since the art of putting the ball into an elevated basket first appeared on Mt. Oread, basketball has truly become a time honored tradition. Entering the 1988-89 season, Kansas has accumulated 1,383 victories on the hardwoods, the third highest total in the collegiate basketball ranks.

Naismith, then a physical education instructor at Kansas, wrote the first pages of Jayhawk roundball history as he coached nine years from 1899 to 1907. Oddly enough, Naismith is the only Kansas head basketball coach to compile a losing record as the Crimson and Blue recorded a 55-60 record under his guidance.

Naismith turned the head coaching reins over to Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, who established himself as the school's winningest coach ever. Allen, for whom Allen Field House is named, coached the 1907 and 1908 seasons, and then from 1919 to 1955. In his 39 year tenure at Kansas, Allen registered 590 wins. His overall collegiate victory total of 770, including wins at Kansas, Baker, Haskell and Central Missouri State, is second only to Halstead, Kan., native and Jayhawk alumnus Adolph Rupp. Rupp, who enjoyed a successful and storied career as a coach at Kentucky, was a member of the Kansas 1922 and 1923 Helms National Championship squads coached by Allen.

> Everyone who is at all interested in athletics is now talking basketball, yet it does not stop here. Those who hitherto have manifested no interest in any sport of skill and strength seem now to be enthusaistic over the new game.

Allen, who suffered only two losing seasons, was noted for his humor, wit and innovative style, and is credited as being the person most responsible for the inclusion of basketball in Olympic competition. The 1936 summer games in Berlin were the inaugural showcase of Olympic basketball. Allen would later serve as an assistant coach in the 1952 games. Under Allen's direction, Kansas won three NCAA Regional Championships (1940, 1952 and 1953), with the 1952 squad led by Clyde Lovellette winning the national championship. Allen's 1922 and 1923 teams won the Helms Foundation National championships.

After Allen's first two seasons, W.O. Hamilton coached at Kansas for ten seasons, from 1909 to 1918. Hamilton finished his coaching stint at Kansas with a mark of 125 wins and 59 losses for a .679 winning percentage.

In Kansas' long and storied basketball tradition only six men have ever been head coach. Dick Harp, who himself played under Allen from 1938-40 at Kansas, became head coach in 1956 and would serve until 1963. Owning a career record of 121 wins and 83 losses (.596 winning percentage), Harp's 1957 team led by a 7-1 center named Wilt Chamberlain fell to North Carolina 54-53 in triple overtime in the NCAA title game in Kansas City. The Jayhawks finished the season with a 24-3 record as Chamberlain averaged 29.6 points per game. Harp and former Jayhawk Dean Smith are two of only five persons to have played and coached in an NCAA Final Four game.

Harp's successor was a young Oklahoman by the name of Ted Owens who went on to register a 348-182 (.657) record in 19 seasons, a Kansas win total second only to Allen's mark. Owens guided his team to Final Four appearances in 1971 and 1974. During his career, Jayhawk teams won six Big Eight regular season championships, one post-season tournament championship, earned two National Invitation Tournament and seven NCAA appearances.

The success experienced by Owens was continued by Larry Brown, the sixth coach in the program's history. Brown's winning percentage of .754 (135-44) is the best in Kansas basketball history. Brown learned his trade as an honorable mention All-American guard at North Carolina under present Tar Heel coach and University of Kansas Distinguished Alumnus Dean Smith. In five seasons at Kansas, Brown captured a Big Eight Conference regular season crown, two Big Eight Conference post season titles, and five consecutive NCAA Tournament berths. The 1986 squad reached the Final Four, while the 1988 team defeated Oklahoma 83-79 for the national championship.

Brown was replaced on July 8, 1988, by Roy Williams, himself a North Carolina graduate. Williams played as a freshman under Smith, then spent 10 years as an assistant for the Tar Heels.

The history and tradition of Kansas basketball would not be complete without the mention of former athletic director A.C. "Dutch" Lonborg. Lonborg, who lettered in football and baseball, and was an All-American in 1919 in basketball for the Jayhawks, served as director of athletics from 1950 to 1964. A graduate of the University of Kansas School of Law, Lonborg was instrumental in organizing the first NCAA Tournament while he was the coach at Northwestern. He later served as chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee, and is a member of the Basketball Hall of Fame.

The University of Kansas has also been the training ground of some of the most successful collegiate basketball coaches in the nation. In addition to the late Adolph Rupp and Dean Smith, current Oregon State coach Ralph Miller and John McLendon are Kansas alumni who have gained wide acclaim. Each is a member of Kansas' 13-man contingent who have been elected to the Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame. Miller, along with Clyde Lovellette were the latest inductees, having been honored in May of 1988. Rupp starred for Allen's 17-1, 1922-23 Helms National Championship teams, while Smith, an Emporia, Kan., native, played for Allen on the 1951-52 national championship team and the 1952-53 Jayhawk squad which lost to Indiana in the NCAA finals. Miller, also a native Kansan from Chanute, was a football and basketball standout for the Crimson and Blue. He was a member of the 1940 squad which under Allen's direction finished second nationally, losing to Indiana 60-42 in the title game. In 1942, Miller led the Big Six Conference in scoring. McLendon never played at Kansas, but did become the first black to graduate from Mt. Oread with a degree in physical education when he did so in 1936. Under Allen's watchful eye, the Hiawatha, Kan., product became a keen student of the game and went on to compile a 523-165 coaching record in 25 years at North Carolina College, Hampton Institute, Tennessee State, Kentucky State and Cleveland State.

Darnell Valentine, now a member of the Cleveland Cavaliers, was a four-time all-Big Eight Conference selection (1978-81).

The tradition and success of University of Kansas basketball is documented by the milestones achieved during its 90 years of existence. Through 79 years of conference competition, the Jayhawks have won or shared 38 titles, more than twice as much as any Big Eight Conference school. An 18-time NCAA and two-time NIT qualifier, Kansas has advanced to the Final Four eight times, the fourth highest total among NCAA schools. In NCAA Tournament competition, the Jayhawks have accumulated a 36-18 record. Kansas has won national championships in 1952 and 1988, finished second in 1940, 1953 and 1957, tied for third in 1986 and finished fourth in 1971 and 1974. The Jayhawks fell to Dayton in the NIT finals in 1968, 61-48.

The 1951-52 national championship squad which finished 28-3 ranks as one of the best in the school's history. Center Clyde Lovellette led the Jayhawks to a 80-63 win over St. John's in Seattle, Wash., to claim the crown. Lovellette, who was the most recent Naismith Hall of Fame inductee, was named All-America and the NCAA Tourney Most Outstanding Player.

Lovellette not only led the Jayhawks to a national title, but helped Kansas to a 58-22 mark in three seasons. KU's second all-time leading scorer with 1,888 points, he is also fifth on the all-time rebounding charts with 813. He went on to enjoy a successful NBA career including a stint with some of the great St. Louis Hawks' teams in the late 1950's.

The 1987-88 national championship team, despite a rash of injuries and hardship, defied the odds in winning the title. Under Brown's direction, the Jayhawks rebounded from a 12-8 start and 1-4 Big Eight mark to finish at 27-11. Led by college basketball player-of-the-year Danny Manning, the Jayhawks defeated Oklahoma 83-79 for the title in Kansas City, Mo. The improbable trip to the title included tournament wins over Kansas State (71-58), Duke (66-59) and Oklahoma (83-79), teams which had beaten the Jayhawks in the regular season. Manning went on to be the first pick in the National Basketball Association's 1988 draft.

Basketball was first played on the Kansas campus from 1898 to 1907 in the basement of "old" Snow Hall, which stood to the immediate north of where Watson Library is located today. The west portion of the basement was known as "the large room," and was the setting for the first physical education classes. It was here where Naismith introduced basektball to Kansas, although the actual games were played at the armory, skating rink and YMCA in downtown Lawrence. In order to play the game properly, Naismith had the basement floor lowered to allow for a ceiling height of 14 feet. The physicai education department was expanded until it occupied the entire basement of Snow Hall.

In 1907, the physical education department was headquartered at the old Robinson Gymnasium on the site of where Wescoe Hall stands today. Competition was later moved to the immediate west to Hoch Auditorium where Allen molded Kansas basketball into a household name. On March 1, 1955, Kansas basketball moved to its present day home of Allen Field House as a record crowd of 17,228 saw the Jayhawks down Kansas State 77-67.

The list of Jayhawk basketball players reads like a Who's Who with the school having 41 All-American selections to its credit. Perhaps one of the most versatile Jayhawk-student athletes ever, Ray Evans gained All-American status in 1942 and 1943, and was honored with the same recognition in football in 1947. Evans teamed wth Ralph Miller on Phog Allen's 1942 Big Six championship squad which finished 17-5.

The presence of Lovellette at Kansas began a long tradition of impressive big men to play on Mt. Oread. Medicine Lodge, Kan., native B.H. Born continued the legacy as he gained

All-American status in 1953 as Kansas fell to Indiana 69-68, in the NCAA title game. Despite the loss to the Hoosiers, Born was named the NCAA Tournament MVP. Five years after Lovellette's departure, a young 7-1 teenager from Philadelphia, Pa., by the name of Wilton "Wilt" Chamberlain headed west to the plains of Kansas and became one of the dominant players in college basketball history. Still the owner of the Kansas single game scoring record (52 points versus Northwestern in 1957) and rebounds (36 versus Iowa State in 1957), Chamberlain ranks as the ninth leading scorer in the school's history, despite having played only two seasons. Chamberlain later went onto have an illustrious professional career with the Harlem Globetrotters, Philadelphia and San Francisco Warriors and the Los Angeles Lakers.

The late 50's and early 60's saw future NBA stars Bill Bridges and Wayne Hightower dominate the inside for coach Dick Harp. Together, they led Kansas to a 36-17 record during the 1959-60 and 1960-61 seasons. Bridges went on to star as a forward for Los Angeles, St. Louis and Atlanta in the NBA after graduating as Kansas' all-time leading rebounder with 1,081. Hightower today stands as the Jayhawks' 14th leading scorer in two seasons of action with 1,128 points.

The progression of outstanding inside play continued in the mid-1960's as Walt Wesley dominated for three seasons scoring 1,315 points and capturing 565 rebounds. As a junior and senior, which were Owens' first two as a head coach, Wesley led Kansas to a combined 40-12 record. He later played in the NBA for the Cincinnati Royals and the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The late 60's saw a smooth and talented guard by the name of Jo Jo White display his talents on the floor of Allen Field House. A three-time all-Big Eight pick and a 1968 and 1969 All-American selection, White was the heart and soul of Jayhawk teams which made two NCAA and two NIT appearances. Following his junior year, White led the United States Olympic basketball team to the gold medal in 1968 in Mexico City. White is tenth on the all-time Kansas scoring list with 1,286 points and a 15.3 career average. Following his career at Kansas, White entered the professional ranks where he distinguished himself as an all-star, playing with the Boston Celtics, Kansas City Kings and Golden State Warriors. The Celtics have since retired White's jersey number 10.

The 70's saw Kansas reach the final four twice as the Owens-coached squads of 1970-71 and 1973-74 reached the national spotlight. The 1970-71 team was led by Springfield, Ill., native Dave Robisch, who ranks as the Jayhawks' fourth leading scorer with 1,754 points. A basketball and baseball standout at Kansas,

All-Time Kansas Team

In a fan balloting during the 1985-86 season, the players shown below were selected to the all-time Kansas team.

Clyde Lovellette
1950-52

Wilt Chamberlain
1957-58

Jo Jo White
1966-69

Darnell Valentine
1978-81

Danny Manning
1985-88

Robisch won All-American honors in 1971 and played in the NBA for 13 seasons. Robisch and his teammates fell in the semifinals to eventual NCAA champion UCLA 68-60 in a game played in the Astrodome. Robisch's teammate Bud Stallworth, himself the seventh leading scorer in Kansas basketball history with 1,495 points, would go on to grab All-American recognition in 1972. The 1973-74 team will best be remembered for its uncanny ability to fight back when defeat appeared imminent. Going 8-18 the season before, that squad went on to finish 23-7 with its leading scorer Danny Knight averaging only 12.4 points per game.

Owens and his Jayhawks would later reach the NCAA tournament in 1975, 1978 and 1981, the last coming during the career of Jayhawk guard Darnell Valentine. The third highest scorer in Kansas history with 1,821 points, Valentine won All-American honors in 1981. A four-time all-Big Eight pick, Valentine now plays with the Cleveland Cavaliers of the NBA.

The success of the 70's did not let up in the 80's as Brown led Kansas to a school-first five consecutive NCAA Tournaments. The 1985-86 team set a school record for wins as it completed the year at 35-4, earning Kansas' seventh Final Four appearance. Featured on that squad were seniors Greg Dreiling, Calvin Thompson and Ron Kellogg, the 12th, fifth and sixth Jayhawk career leading scorers, respectively. Each ended his career with more than 1,000 points and were NBA draft selections. A junior on that squad, Cedric Hunter later set the Big Eight Conference career assist record with 684, breaking Valentine's mark of 609.

Brown, who gained a reputation as one of the top coaches on the collegiate and professional levels, made his third appearance in the Final Four as a coach with the 1987-88 Jayhawk team. He had taken his 1979-80 UCLA team to the title game in Indianapolis, Ind.

That 1988 Kansas team showcased the most-decorated player in the school's history in Danny Manning. The son of then Kansas assistant Ed Manning, the younger Manning ended his career as the school's and Big Eight Conference's leading scorer with 2,951 points. He added such honors as All-America (1987 and 1988) College player-of-the-year (1988), NCAA Tournament MVP (1988), ABA-USA player-of-the-year (1987) and Olympic team member (1988) to his resume. He also completed his career with NCAA records for games (147), double figure scoring games (132) and ranks sixth on the all-time NCAA scoring list.

The five-year tenure of Brown (1984 to 1988) also saw Kansas set a Big Eight Conference record for consecutive home court wins with 55. Kansas teams went undefeated at Allen Field House in 1985-86-87, and then added seven consecutive wins in 1988 to establish the record.

The contributions that the University of Kansas have made to the game of basketball have been significant in shaping the sport's popularity. The bold and rich history of roundball on Mt. Oread is a source of pride, excitement and tradition to those who support the Crimson and Blue.

Kansas fans had their attention captured by the details of the 1987-88 NCAA Championship game.

‡Schlademan coached season's first game before Allen took over.

*Elected posthumously by 1946. Killed in action against the Japanese on Guam, July 21, 1944, while fighting with the Ninth Marines as a first lieutenant.

†Engleman finished out season as head coach when Allen was ordered to take a rest after 13th game because of head injury.

Pierre Russell captained Kansas' 1971 NCAA Final Four Team.

Wilt Chamberlain led Kansas to a second place finish in the 1957 NCAA Tournament.

TWO-TIME ALL-AMERICAN—Wilt Chamberlain, All-American at Kansas in both 1957 and 1958, is one of seven KU basketball players officially recognized by the NCAA as having been named an All-American twice. Chamberlain is part of a long list of legendary basketball figures to come out of the University of Kansas.

History of Kansas Coaches

DR. JAMES A. NAISMITH (1898-1907): The "Father of Basketball," Naismith is the only Kansas basketball coach to have a losing record. Dr. Naismith compiled a 55-60 record as the Jayhawks' first coach.

As physical education instructor at Springfield College in the winter of 1892, Naismith was asked to come up with some sort of game that would occupy students' time between football and baseball.

As a former rugby player, he tried to incorporate that game into an indoor contest. Passing the ball, rather than tackling, was instituted and he placed peach baskets above the players heads for goals. From this beginning, basketball evolved into today's game.

His innovations in sports did not stop with basketball. As a football player at Springfield under Amos Alonzo Stagg, Naismith complained of bruised ears from rough play. He took a football, cut it lengthwise and placed it over his head to protect his ears. Thus, the first football helmet was invented.

Naismith joined the KU faculty in 1898 and later became the director of physical education. He retired from active teaching in 1937, and died in 1939 at the age of 78.

The National Basketball Hall of Fame, located in Springfield, Mass., is named for him. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1959. He is buried in Lawrence, Kan.

DR. F. C. "PHOG" ALLEN (1907-09; 1919-1956): The winningest coach in Kansas basketball history, Allen compiled a record of 590-219 in 39 seasons as the Jayhawk head coach.

All totaled, Allen won 771 games, a record since broken by one of Allen's former players, the legendary Adolph Rupp of Kentucky.

As a student at KU, Allen's coach was "the Father of Basketball," Dr. James Naismith. When Allen was first thinking about making a career of coaching he talked with Naismith and was told, "You don't coach basketball, Forrest; you play it." Despite that bit of advice, Allen went ahead with his career and disproved Naismith.

He played basketball, too, earning three letters for the Jayhawks (1905-07), and also earning a spot on the roster of the Kansas City Athletic Club.

Allen began his coaching career in 1907, serving as Kansas' head coach for the 1907-08 and 1908-09 seasons. During that same time period, Allen also coached at Baker University in nearby Baldwin City, and added the coaching position of Haskell Institute in Lawrence in 1908-09.

He dropped out of coaching for four years and returned in 1912 as coach of all sports at Central Missouri State University. In seven years he was head coach at CMSU, his teams won seven championships and their combined record was 102-7.

Allen became Kansas' athletic director in 1919 as well as football and basketball coach. He also was instrumental in the establishment of the Kansas Relays in 1923, but basketball was his passion.

His KU teams won 24 conference championships and won one NCAA title in 1952. The 1922 and 1923 teams were awarded the Helms Foundation National Championship. His 1940 and 1953 teams won the NCAA western regional, but lost in the national finals. In addition, he coached 14 All-Americans.

Allen was one of the founders of the National Basketball Coaches Association and served as its first president. He was named National Coach of the Year in 1950, and was a charter member of the Helms Foundation Basketball Hall of Fame. He was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1959.

Allen was the driving force behind the addition of basketball to the Olympic Games in 1936. During the late 1920s and early 1930s, he conducted a personal crusade trying to coax Olympic officials to include the sport. It finally paid off when the game, invented by his coach, Dr. James Naismith, was recognized by the committee in 1936. He served as an assistant coach to the 1952 Olympic team, a combination of KU players and a team from Peoria, Ill.

He was also behind the efforts of the implementation of the NCAA Tournament, begun for the first time in 1939.

Allen Field House, named for him, was first opened March 1, 1955, and is still the home court for KU basketball.

Allen died in 1974 at the age of 88.

WILLIAM O. HAMILTON (1909-1919): The Jayhawks' third head coach, Hamilton bridged the gap between Phog Allen's two tentures as Kansas' coach.

Hamilton came to Kansas in 1909 as track and basketball coach, and accepted the athletic director's position in addition to his coaching duties. Prior to his appointment at Kansas', he served as director of physical education at Central High School in Kansas City, Mo., and acted in the same capacity at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo.

Hamilton's teams compiled a 125-59 record and captured five conference championships, including three straight from 1910-1912. Under his guidance three players achieved All-American status: Tommy Johnson in 1909 (KU's first All-American in any sport), Ralph "Lefty" Sproull in 1915 and A.C. "Dutch" Lonborg in 1919.

DICK HARP (1956-1964): After gaining a wealth of knowledge as Phog Allen's understudy, Harp became the Jayhawks' head coach himself as he served from 1956-1964. Harp compiled a 121-82 record in those eight seasons, and led the Jayhawks to two conference titles and two NCAA tournament berths. In 1957, the Jayhawks captured the Midwest regional and made it to the finals, only to be stopped by North Carolina in a memorable 54-53 loss in triple overtime in Kansas City, Mo. Under his guidance, Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Bridges achieved All-American status. Harp had served a Phog Allen's assistant for eight seasons before taking over for Allen in 1956. Prior to that Harp was head coach for two seasons at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo. As Allen had done before him, Harp played basketball at KU, lettering from 1938-40. He was one of the starting guards on the 1940 team that lost to Indiana in the NCAA finals. Harp served as the director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for 13 years after leaving the Jayhawks. Harp is only one of five people to have played and coached in an NCAA title game. He is currently an assistant coach at North Carolina, serving as Dean Smith's administrative Assistant.

TED OWENS (1964-83): Owens ranks as the second-winningest coach in Kansas basketball history behind Phog Allen. His record of 348-182 (.657) was compiled over 19 seasons from 1964-83.

In Owens' tenure as the Jayhawks' head coach, Kansas won six Big Eight Conference titles and advanced to NCAA post-season play seven times. His 1971 and 1974 teams made it to the Final Four, and in 1968 the Jayhawks lost to Dayton in the finals of the National Invitation Tournament.

Owens was named Big Eight Coach of the Year five times and was named National Coach of the Year in 1978 by Basketball Weekly magazine. He coached five All-Americans, including Jo Jo White, Darnell Valentine, Dave Robisch, Bud Stallworth, and Walt Wesley.

A three-year letterman at Oklahoma (1949-51), Owens honed his coaching skills as head coach at Cameron State Junior College in Lawton, Okla. In four season his teams never won fewer than 20 games and three times advanced to the national junior college tournament semi-finals. At Cameron, he amassed a 93-24 record and boasted of four junior college All-Americans.

Owens then accepted an assistant's position under Dick Harp in 1960, and was promoted to head coach when Harp resigned following the 1963-64 season.

LARRY BROWN (1984-88): The sixth head coach in Kansas basketball history, Brown maintained the Jayhawks' national prominence in leading his teams to NCAA Tournament appearances in each of his five seasons. Brown accepted the head coaching position with the San Antonio Spurs of the NBA following the 1987-88 season. Brown had a cumulative collegiate coaching record of 177-61 (.744) in seven seasons, including a five year mark of 135-44 (.754) at Kansas.

A 1963 graduate of North Carolina, Brown was an honorable mention guard under former Kansas basketball player Dean Smith. After playing on the 1964 United States gold medal winning Olympic team, Brown went on to distinguish himself first as a player then as a coach in the American Basketball Association. He also served as a head coach in the NBA following its merger with the ABA.

In nine seasons as a professional coach and seven campaigns on the collegiate level, Brown never had a losing season, or failed to reach post season play. While the head coach at UCLA (1979-80, 1980-81), Brown led his freshman-dominated 1979-80 team to the NCAA title game, before falling to Louisville, 59-54. Brown's 1985-86 Kansas team reached the NCAA Final Four, and the 1987-88 Jayhawk squad won the national title, defeating Oklahoma 83-79.

Naismith Hall of Fame Inductees

The University of Kansas proudly boasts of its rich basketball history. A total of 13 former Jayhawks have been enshrined in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame which is located in Springfield, Mass. The latest Kansas inductees are former Kansas players Clyde Lovellette and Ralph Miller. Both were elected in May of 1988. Lovellette was the 1952 NCAA MVP, while Miller was also a football standout. He is currently head coach at Oregon State. The Hall of Fame is named in honor of the game's inventor and former Kansas head coach Dr. James Naismith.

DR. JAMES A. NAISMITH (Springfield, Mass.): The "Father of Basketball," Naismith is the only Kansas basketball coach to have a losing record. Dr. Naismith compiled a 55-60 record as the Jayhawks' first coach.

The National Basketball Hall of Fame, located in Springfield, Mass., is named for him. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1959.

DR. F. C. "PHOG" ALLEN (Lawrence, Kan.): The winningest coach in Kansas basketball history, Allen compiled a record of 590-219 in 39 seasons as the Jayhawk head coach.

All totaled, Allen won 771 games, a record since broken by one of Allen's former players, the legendary Adolph Rupp of Kentucky.

As a student at KU, Allen's coach was "the Father of Basketball," Dr. James Naismith. Allen Field House, named for him, was first opened March 1, 1955, and is still the home court for KU basketball.

Allen died in 1974 at the age of 88.

E.C. QUIGLEY (New Brunswick, Canada): To most fans, Quigley was best known as a referee and official, but he also wore the additional hats of a player, coach and administrator.

He served as athletic director at Kansas from 1944-1950, and in six years, he succeeded in retiring the $113,000 debt owed on Memorial Stadium.

He hired George Sauer and later J.V. Sikes as football coaches, brought in Bill Easton as track coach and hired Dick Harp to be Phog Allen's assistant coach.

A four-sport letterman, Quigley played football at KU in 1900 and 1901, and went on to coach football at Central Missouri State University. From CMSU, he moved on to St. Mary's College and coached for 12 seasons.

After suffering a broken hand in professional baseball, he turned to officiating sports. It would be the start of a long and distinguished career. When it finally ended 40 years later, Quigley estimated he officiated 400 football games, nearly 5,400 major league baseball games and 1,500 basketball contests. He worked three Rose Bowl games and six World Series. He spent 23 years in the National League, first as an umpire, then later supervisor of umpires and public relations director. In addition, he worked 19 consecutive AAU basketball tournaments, several NCAA tournaments and the 1936 Olympic basketball finals.

He was elected to the hall in 1961.

JOHN BUNN (Wellston, Ohio): Bunn came to Kansas in 1917 as a three-sport athlete, earning four letters in football and three each in basketball and baseball. Upon graduation, he went on to coach basketball for 42 years at Stanford, Springfield (Mass). College and Northern Colorado. He accumulated 321 wins and three Pacific Coast titles (1936-37-38).

A graduate of Humboldt, Kansas High School, Bunn became the first athlete ever to earn 10 varsity letters from Kansas. After he retired as a coach, he was a member of the NCAA rules committee and served as the national rules editor and interpreter for nine seasons (1959-67). He served as chairman of the Hall of Fame committee of the N.A.B.C. from 1949-61, and the first Executive Director of the Basketball Federation in 1965.

He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1964.

ADOLPH RUPP (Halstead, Kan.): Known as the "Baron of Basketball," Rupp was a member of the 1923 team that posted a 17-1 overall record and won the Helms Foundation National Championship under Phog Allen.

Rupp went on to coach at Kentucky for 41 seasons and compiled a record of 880-190, surpassing his former coach Phog Allen as the winningest college coach of all time.

As coach of the Wildcats, Rupp guided his teams to 27 Southeastern Conference titles, an NIT championship in 1946 and four NCAA crowns. 25 players were All-American under his guidance and 31 of his players played professionally.

He was named National Coach of the Year four times and SEC coach of the year seven times. He served as co-coach of the 1948 Olympic basketball team and was selected as an Olympic goodwill ambassador to the 1968 games in Mexico City.

He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1959, and became a member of the selection and honors committees of the hall in addition to being named a Hall trustee. He also served as a member of the NCAA rules committee for several years.

PAUL ENDACOTT (Lawrence, Kan.): Endacott lettered in basketball at Kansas from 1921-23 and was captain of the 1923 squad which captured a conference title and finished the season with a 17-1 record. The 1923 team was later recognized by the Helms Foundation as national champions for that year.

Kansas coaching legend Phog Allen called Endacott "The greatest player I have ever coached."

Endacott was awarded all-conference honors in 1921-22-23 (the first triple all-conference selection in KU history), and was named Helms Foundation National Player of the Year in 1923.

He was elected in 1971.

ARTHUR C. "DUTCH" LONBORG (Horton, Kan.): "Dutch" Lonborg was a three-sport letterwinner at Kansas, earning honors in football, basketball and baseball. He was a three-time all-conference performer in football (1917-19) and was twice named to the all-conference squad in basketball (1919-20). He was awarded All-American honors in basketball in 1919.

Lonborg then played for the Kansas City Athletic Club in the AAU, helping the team to a berth in the Helms Foundation national tournament in 1921. He was named to the all-tournament team that year for his play.

After graduating from the Kansas School of Law. Lonborg coached at McPherson College and Washburn before beginning a 23-year career as coach at Northwestern. While at Northwestern, he was instrumental in organizing the first NCAA basketball tournament in 1939.

He left Northwestern in 1950 to return to Kansas as director of athletics, a position he held for 14 years. During his tenure, the Jayhawks won 38 conference titles in all sports and took four NCAA crowns, including the 1952 basketball championship. In addition, numerous physical plant additions were made, including the construction of Allen Field House and Quigley Field (now Hoglund-Maupin Stadium) and Memorial Stadium expansion.

Lonborg also served as the manager of the 1960 United States Olympic basketball team and spent 13 years as the chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee. He also served as chairman of the 1959 United States Pan American Games. For his contributions to basketball, he was the first recipient of the Phog Allen Award, given by the Naismith Peach-basket Committee, in 1977.

He was elected in 1972.

WILLIAM C. JOHNSON (Oklahoma City, Okla.): The dominant collegiate center of his time, Bill "Skinny" Johnson achieved All-American status in 1933 as he led the Jayhawks to a third consecutive Big Six Conference title. Johnson, who stood 6-4, was considered a giant in an era when the center jump after each basket was a part of the game.

After graduation, Johnson continued to be a force in basketball. He played for Southern Kansas Stage Lines in the AAU, and was named an All-American while playing for Southern Kansas.

Johnson received the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to an all-time sports great from Oklahoma. He was named to the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1976.

JOHN McLENDON (Hiawatha, Kan.): Although McLendon did not play basketball for Kansas, he distinguished himself in collegiate coaching, becoming the first black college coach elected to the Hall of Fame in 1976.

After becoming the first black to graduate with a bachelors' degree in physical education from Kansas in 1936, McLendon then turned to coaching. He began an illustrious career at North Carolina College in 1938. After 14 years there, he went to Hampton (Va.) Institute, and then accepted the position at Tennessee A&I. While head coach there, his teams captured three consecutive NAIA national titles (1957-59). He was the first American head coach to win three straight national championshps.

He also coached at Kentucky State, Cleveland State, the National Industrial League, and professionally with Cleveland (ABL) and Denver (ABA). When he retired from active coaching in 1969, his winning percentage was nearly .800. He had a 25 year college mark of 523-165 (.760).

McLendon served as a State Department basketball specialist to Southeast Asia, and a consultant to the Virgin Islands and Bahamas basketball federations. He also coached the 1964 NAIA Olympic Trials team and the 1973 team representing the United States in the World Basketball Festival in Lima, Peru.

He was honored as the NAIA national coach of the year in 1958, and named coach of the decade by the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1956. He received a special award for the development of international basketball in 1976. McLendon currently works for Converse as a public relations executive.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN (Philadelphia, Pa.): Still regarded as one of the greatest basketball players ever, Chamberlain quickly made an impact on the Jayhawk basketball program. In his freshman basketball debut, he scored 42 points as the underclassmen defeated the varsity.

Chamberlain's varsity debut was equally impressive as he poured 52 points and grabbed 31 rebounds against Northwestern. That scoring total still ranks as a Kansas single game record.

In 1957, Chamberlain led the Jayhawks to a 24-3 record and a spot in the NCAA finals where Kansas was defeated by North Carolina, 54-53 in three overtimes. Despite the loss, Chamberlain was honored as the tournament's most valuable player. He was twice honored as an All-American, and was an all-conference performer both seasons as well.

Chamberlain was a versatile performer as he also lettered in track. He cleared 6-6¾ in the high jump to tie for first in the 1958 Big Eight track and field championships.

After leaving school his junior season to play with the Harlem Globetrotters, he distinguished himself as the NBA's second leading all-time scorer (with 31,419 points), Rookie of the year in 1960, four-time most valuable player and 10-time all-NBA performer. He also set the NBA single-game scoring record on March 2, 1962 when he scored 100 points against the New York Knicks.

He was elected in 1978.

DEAN SMITH (Emporia, Kan.): Smith was a member of the 1952 Kansas team which claimed the NCAA title, downing St. John's, 80-63, and a member of the 1952-53 team which lost to Indiana in the NCAA finals.

A native of Emporia, Kan., Smith coached North Carolina to the 1982 NCAA championship and his 1971 team claimed the NIT crown. He was the coach of the 1976 Olympic squad that won a gold medal. In 26 seasons since assuming the head coaching position in 1961, he has compiled a 642-182 record.

He has taken his North Carolina teams to 14 consecutive NCAA tournaments, breaking John Wooden's UCLA streak. In addition, his teams have made eight appearances in the Final Four.

Smith has guided North Carolina to 18 consecutive seasons of 20 or more wins, and his teams have been in the top 10 for the past 12 seasons. The Tar Heels have won 10 Atlantic Coast Conference championships with Smith at the helm, and UNC has won either the regular season race or the post season tournament 15 of the last 20 years.

He has coached 28 all-conference players, 16 All-Americans and seen 31 of his former players go on to play in the professional ranks. A total of 12 former players, including former Kansas head coach Larry Brown, and current Jayhawk head coach Roy Williams, are coaches or administrators.

He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1984.

RALPH MILLER (Chanute, Kan.): Currently the seventh winningest coach in NCAA Division I basketball, Ralph Miller has notched 652 victories during his 38 years of coaching. That total leaves him just 15 shy of the number six man, UCLA's wizard John Wooden.

Before establishing himself as a coaching legend, Miller experienced much individual athletic success. He was a multi-sport athlete at Chanute, Kansas High School as he earned letters in football (4), basketball (3), track (4), golf (1), and tennis (1). Following his high school career Miller enrolled in 1937 at Kansas where he was a two-sport star for the Jayhawks. He earned three football letters as a starting quarterback and three in basketball playing for the legendary Phog Allen. During the 1940 basketball season Miller was a starter on the team which lost to Indiana in the national championship game, 60-42.

Upon graduating from KU in 1942, Miller served three years in the Air Force before starting his coaching career at Wichita, Kansas East High School. After three years and a state championship at Wichita East, he moved on to the head coaching job at Wichita State. After compiling a 220-133 record in 14 years at Wichita State, Miller moved on to Iowa. There, he recorded a 95-51 mark in six years before moving on to his present head coaching position at Oregon State. During his 17 years at Oregon State, Miller has produced a 337-184 record.

A two-time national coach of the year, he has been coach of the year at least twice in each of the three conferences he has coached — Missouri Valley, Big Ten and Pacific 10. His best team at Oregon State was upset by Kansas State in the 1981 NCAA Tournament and finished 25-1, but his best team of all time was his 1970 squad at Iowa which averaged 102 points a game in going 14-0 in Big Ten play before losing to Jacksonville in NCAA regional play.

Miller was elected to the Hall of Fame in May 1988 and will retire following the 1988-89 basketball season.

CLYDE LOVELLETE (Terre Haute, Ind.): A two-time All-American center, Clyde Lovellette led Kansas to an 80-63 victory over St. John's in the 1952 NCAA basketball championship game, Kansas' first basketball championship. Additionally, Lovellette set a then NCAA tournament scoring record of 141 points and was also named most outstanding performer of the 1952 NCAA tournament.

Today, he ranks as the second all-time leading scorer in KU history with 1,888 career points in 77 games, an average of 24.5 and as the No. 5 all-time leading rebounder with 813, an average of 10.6. During his senior season, a season in which he led the nation in scoring by averaging 28.4 points per game, Lovellette had career highs with 44 points against St. Louis and 22 rebounds against Colorado.

In addition to his All-America selections, he was also a three-time All-Big Seven center and capped his career by leading the United States to the gold medal in basketball at the 1952 Olympic games in Helsinki.

Following his career at Kansas, Lovellette played one year of AAU basketball for the Phillips 66ers. He then embarked on a 12-year career in the National Basketball Association that included four years at Minneapolis, one at Cincinnati, five at St. Louis, and two at Boston. During his NBA career Lovellette averaged 17 points per game and played on three championship teams, the 1954 Lakers and the 1963 and 1964 Celtics.

Since retiring from professional basketball following the 1964 season, he has worked considerably in the area of law enforcement and juvenile counseling in his native state of Indiana.

He was elected to the Hall of Fame in May 1988.

Clyde Lovellette led Kansas in scoring in 1950-51-52, and was named the NCAA Tournament MVP in 1952.

The University of Kansas

The University of Kansas opened its doors to 29 men and 26 women September 12, 1866, becoming the first university on the Great Plains. The legislative act that established the University charged it to provide the state's inhabitants the opportunity to acquire a "thorough knowledge of the various branches of literature, science, and the arts." To fulfill that goal, three faculty members presided over teaching in the traditional curriculum of the day — Latin, Greek, mathematics, and philosophy.

". . . It is a fine comprehensive institution. A cornbelt (or wheatbelt to be more exact) Berkeley, which in selected areas, offers some of the finest programs in the nation."

Edward Fiske
N.Y. Times Selective Guide
to Colleges

Since that first day, the University of Kansas has become a Midwest leader for study in liberal arts and sciences. It also has diversified into a broad-based center of learning with professional schools in engineering, business, medicine, journalism and mass communications, education, nursing, allied health, architecture and urban design, pharmacy, social welfare, law, and fine arts. Through its Graduate School, it offers master's degrees in more than 80 fields of study and doctorates in 50. KU students receive about 30 percent of the bachelor's degrees, 35 percent of the master's degrees, and 60 percent of the doctorates awarded by Kansas Regents universities. Continuing education and outreach programs extend the university's resources throughout the state.

The university includes the main campus at Lawrence; the Medical Center in Kansas City, Kansas; the School of Medicine clinical branch in Wichita; the Regents Center at Overland Park; and educational and research facilities throughout the state. Nearly 2,000 full-time-equivalent faculty and 7,000 staff and support personnel work at these locations.

From early in its existence, the University of Kansas has enjoyed a national reputation for academic excellence. In 1890 the first chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi west of the Mississippi River were chartered at Lawrence. Since 1908 KU has belonged to the Association of American Universities, an indicator of its regional and national prominence in graduate education and research. Today KU attracts about $41 million a year from outside sources for research in science, technology, the social sciences, and humanities.

Except for setbacks caused by wars and depressions, KU's student body has grown steadily. It topped the 1,000 mark in 1896; 5,000 in 1946; 15,000 in 1967; and 25,000 in 1977. Last fall 28,720 students representing all 105 Kansas counties, all 50 states, and about 100 foreign countries enrolled at KU.

KU students are known for scholastic excellence. Of National Merit scholars attending Kansas public universities for the first time last year, more chose KU than any other university.

KU counts among its alumni twenty-one Rhodes and five Marshall scholars. The prestigious Danforth Fellowships have been awarded eighteen times to KU undergraduates and fifteen times to KU graduate students.

"...The University of Kansas was listed among the top 50 public institutions by Good Housekeeping, and one of only two in the Big Eight Conference mentioned."

The Kansas University Endowment Association and KU Alumni Association have been instrumental contributors to the growth of the university during its 122-year history. The endowment association, established in 1891, is the oldest foundation of its kind in the nation assisting a state-supported university. Near the close of fiscal 1988, its assets were valued at $196 million. The alumni association, with more than 38,000 paid members, moved into the new Adams Alumni Center in 1983. During 1986-87, alumni and friends donated more than $15.2 million and immeasurable in-kind contributions to the university. In 1988 the endowment association launched Campaign Kansas, a five-year fund drive to raise $150 million for scholarships, distinguished professorships, new buildings, and equipment.

Among the other resources that enhance teaching, research, and public service activities is the University Libraries system. The collection of the KU libraries ranks in size in the top third of the 98 major research libraries in the United States and Canada and is the most extensive in the central United States.

Surveys of KU graduating classes indicate that more than 90 percent would recommend KU to others and rate highly the quality of education. A similar percentage say that their years at KU not only helped fulfill their educational goals, but also contributed significantly to their personal development.

The strength of the University's athletic program parallels that of the academic offering. Both the men's and women's athletic teams compete in the Big Eight Conference, long respected for its academic and athletic excellence. Some of the nation's finest facilities and resources are available to the student-athlete.

Located at the north base of Mt. Oread is Memorial Stadium, home of the football and outdoor track teams. The horseshoe shaped structure provides seating for more than 50,000 people and features an eight lane all-weather track and synthetic playing surface. Situated picturesquely on the campus, Memorial Stadium is the eighth oldest collegiate stadium in the nation.

The centralized athletic facility is located on campus, featuring structures for swimming, baseball, basketball, football practicing, tennis, indoor track, softball and conditioning/weight training. Additionally, the athletic department administration facilities are in that area. In recent years, many improvements have been made to keep the physical structure among the nation's best.

Allen Field House is the home of the men's and women's basketball programs, and ranks as one of the largest on campus facilities, seating 15,800. Within the past three years, a new wood surface has been added, lockerrooms renovated and seating capacity increased. Once the training facility for all sports, it is used solely by the basketball and volleyball programs. The most recent renovation project totaled $300,000.

The past year has also seen an improvement in tennis and baseball facilities. In the summer of 1988, new nets, fencing and surfaces were added to the six tennis courts at a cost of $68,000. The home of the Jayhawk baseball program, was transformed into a 1,500 seat stadium, complete with lights, press box, scoreboard, public address restrooms and concession stands. In all, the tranformation of Quigley Field to Hoglund-Maupin Stadium resulted in more than $300,000 in improvements. In 1985, softball games were moved to the campus with the construction of Jayhawk Field.

Kansas athletics made great strides in 1984 with the construction of the Anschutz Sports Pavilion and the Shaffer-Holland Strength Center. The Anschutz Sports Pavilion is a state-of-the-art structure adapatable for all sports at Kansas. It features a 90-yard astroturf field, eight-lane 252-yard synthetic track and pits for long jumping, pole vaulting and high jumping. Nets and batting cages are also available for the golf, baseball and softball teams. The all-purpose facility was built at a cost of $3.5 million.

Adjacent to Anschutz Sports Pavilion is Shaffer-Holland Strength Center, consisting of a main weight and conditioning room of more than 6,000 square feet and $100,000 of ultra-modern equipment.

The main athletic department offices are located in Parrott Athletic Center and Allen Field House. These facilities also house the academic support offices and training facilities.

The Rock Chalk Chant

The Rock Chalk Chant has been the battle cry of KU fans for more than 80 years. However, few supporters realize that the yell actually was used in battle, even before it was used at Jayhawk football games.

This strange, traditional chant, which is among the most famous of all college cheers, was started by E. H. S. Bailey, a professor of chemistry. Bailey wanted a cheer for his Science Club. Returning from a convention in Wichita, Bailey and some associates patterned the yell after the rhythmic cadence of their train rolling along the tracks. On May 21, 1886, Bailey submitted the cheer to his club. Even though there was no football team at KU until 1890, the Rock Chalk chant tradition steadily grew.

Before the University adopted the cheer in 1897, it consisted of "Rah, Rah, Jayhawk, KU" being repeated three times. But an English professor soon suggested that "Rock Chalk" be substituted for "Rah, Rah" because it rhymed with Jayhawk. "Rock Chalk" was also symbolic of the chalky limestone formations found on Mount Oread.

The Rock Chalk Chant's use by the military originated in 1898 when Company H of the Twentieth Kansas Infantry, which was made up largely of KU alumni, introduced the yell to United States Volunteers who were stationed in San Francisco. The Twentieth Kansas had been using the cheer for football games between their unit and teams from California and Leland Stanford.

The first time the yell was heard on a battle field was during the Spanish-American War. On Feb. 7, 1899, the first Kansan died in action. The Twentieth Kansas saluted their friend at dusk with a song from the band followed by the Rock Chalk Chant. During the fighting in the Philippines the Kansans would yell the cheer as they charged into battle. The cheer was also hear in World War I. The "Jayhawk News" reported that the 137th Infantry of the 35th Division observed Kansas Day in 1919 with a large meeting at Sampigny, France. The chant was used to open and close the meeting.

Over the years the yell has changed forms. The three quick lines, "Rah, Rah, Jayhawk, KU," have evolved into two lines that are chanted, followed by three that are shouted. But the basic cheer still remains. Professor Bailey would be amazed to hear 50,000 Jayhawk football fans shouting the cheer he gave his Science Club in 1896, a cheer that was used in the Boxer Rebellion in China and a cheer that Teddy Roosevelt said was the best he had ever heard.

The Williams Educational Fund

The Williams Educational Fund represents the annual fund raising program of the University of Kansas athletic department and provides scholarship assistance to more than 400 male and female student-athletes who participate in intercollegiate athletics at KU.

With a membership of over 3,400 donors, the Williams Fund raised in excess of $2.5 million last year to pay the scholarship expenses of student-athletes. As the cornerstone of support for the KU athletic program, a full one-third of the total operating budget is provided through the generosity of the Williams Fund donors.

The primary goal of the Williams Fund is to provide scholarship support for student athletes, but the spectrum has broadened over the past few years. The Williams Fund encompasses the K-Club, an organization of alumni lettermen at KU; the Margin of Excellence Fund, which attracts over $300,000 of extra support for non-revenue sports; the KU Athletic Hall of Fame and Jayhawk Club gatherings throughout the state.

The Williams Fund also oversees the Wheel Club, which represents the courtesy car program for KUAC coaches and administrators, and coordinates the annual Jayhawk Golf Classic at Alvamar Country Club in Lawrence each May.

The need for a scholarship program was recognized early at the University of Kansas. In 1949, the Outland Club was originated by Dick, Skipper and Odd Williams. The Williams family was responsible for raising over $2 million for athletic scholarships between 1949 and 1973.

The scholarship program was reorganized in 1973 and became known as the Williams Educational Fund.

Members are separated into levels depending on their contribution. The levels incude: Jayhawk Club ($25-$99), Outland Club ($100-$249), Crimson Club ($250-$499), Sports Club ($500-$999), Victory Club ($1,000-$1,499), Blue Chip Club ($1,500-$2,499), Directors Club ($2,500-$4,999), Executive Club ($5,000-$9,999), and All-American Club ($10,000-up).

The Williams Fund is under the direction of Steve Walsh. Staff assistants include Scott McMichael along with computer systems manager and assistant to the director Joanie Wilhite and secretary Nancy Hettwer.

Where the Jayhawk Came From

1912 Bird: This 1912 Jayhawk was drawn by Henry Maloy of Eureka, Kan. As a KU student he put shoes on the Jayhawk so it could kick the Missouri Hound Dog after the sentiment of a song then popular.

1920 Bird: The artist of the 1920 version of a Jayhawk is unknown. This rather somber, motionless bird atop a KU monogram was soon replaced by a lively looking Jayhawk.

1923 Bird: This 1923 Jayhawk created by two KU students, George Hollingbery and Jimmy O'Bryon, gained wide acceptance.

Each spring, as the University of Kansas graduates a new class of Jayhawkers, the origin of its name comes into question.

It is known that the term, "Jayhawk," was used as early as 1849. In that year, a party of pioneers crossing what is today Nebraska called themselves "The Jayhawkers of '49." They are believed to have taken the name from a combination of two birds which were familiar in the West — the hawk and the bluejay. Whether these pioneers were the first to call themselves Jayhawkers is not known (later they did discover Death Valley in California).

One member of the party, John B. Colton, later remembered first hearing the word on the Platte River in 1849, long before Kansas Territory was established. According to Colton, when the Argonauts returned east, the word continued in use.

The word "Jayhawk" was first used in present-day Kansas about 1858. It was associated with robbing, looting and general lawlessness. During the Civil War, however, it took on new meaning.

Dr. Charles R. (Doc) Jennison, a surgeon, used it in 1861 when he was commissioned as a colonel by Kansas Governor Charles Robinson and charged with raising a regiment of cavalry. Jennison called his regiment the "Independent Mounted Kansas Jayhawkers," although it was officially the First Kansas Cavalry and later the Seventh Kansas Regiment.

During the Civil War the word Jayhawk became associated with the spirit of comradeship and the courageous fighting qualities associated with efforts to keep Kansas a free state. And following the war most Kansans were proud to be called Jayhawkers.

By 1886, the University of Kansas at Lawrence had adopted the mythical bird as part of the KU yell. By the 1890s, birds of one sort or another were used to represent KU on post cards and wall posters. And the University's yearbook became known in 1901 as the Jayhawker.

But it was not until 1912 that Henry Maloy, a student from Eureka, Kan., created a cartoon Jayhawk. It was the basis for the modern-day bird, symbolic of the University of Kansas.

1929 Bird: The first "Fighting Jayhawk" was drawn by KU student Forrest O. Calvin at the request of Fred Ellsworth of the Alumni Association. The Jayhawk pictured here was used for many years as an advertising symbol by a Lawrence, Kan., tire company.

1941 Bird: This perky contemptuous Jayhawk of 1941 was drawn by Gene Williams.

1946 Bird: The smiling or happy Jayhawk of 1946 was drawn by Harold D. Sandy.
